Senate Committee Asks Speed on Security Cases

Wicks Announces He'll Run Again

Dewey Has His Support If He's Nominated; LeFevre Approved

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Ulster county Republican leader, told reporters in Albany following a special session of the Legislature on Thursday that he will be a candidate for reelection to his 34th district senate seat.

He also was quoted as saying he intended to support the Republican state ticket next fall "regardless of who is on it."

Wicks' announcement that he will be a candidate for reelection came as no surprise locally. He intimated earlier this year that "indications were" he would run again.

Answer on Dewey

The Kingston Republican leader's statement concerning support of the state ticket appeared to answer a question that has loomed large on the local political scene, the question of Wicks' position should Gov. Dewey become a candidate for reelection.

Wicks last November resigned as majority leader of the state after he had been under fire by Gov. Dewey following the disclosure that Wicks visited labor extortionist Joseph Fay in Sing Sing prison.

The Associated Press reported from Albany that Wicks told a reporter he did not expect to be opposed for renomination.

No 'Penanlties' Anticipated

Wicks said, according to the AP, he did not anticipate any repercussions against his district if he and Dewey were re-elected. He said that he had discussed that possibility with the district's county leaders, however, and that they told him they were for him regardless of any consequences.

In Kingston, Wicks had not arrived back at his 41 Pearl street office this morning and could not be contacted for comment.

However, local Republican sources said they felt certain the party locally was "100 per cent united" for Sen. Wicks.

Dewey Support Question

The predominant feeling among Wicks' lieutenants, however, seemed to be that any local support for Gov. Dewey if he becomes a candidate for re-election will be less than enthusiastic. There was speculation that if Wicks is re-elected and Dewey either declines to run again or is defeated, Wicks' colleagues in the Senate will return Wicks to majority leadership.

At Thursday's session of the Legislature, the Senate approved Gov. Dewey's appointment of Jay LeFevre of New Paltz to the State Bridge Authority. LeFevre fills a vacancy caused by the death of James F. Loughran of Kingston.

Defense Department Gets Word as Big Bill Is Approved

Washington, June 11 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today ordered the Defense Department "to speed up its clearance of military and civilian security cases" as it approved a bill providing more than 29 billions of defense funds for the next fiscal year.

Sen. Ferguson (R.-Mich.), manager for the big money bill, told reporters that the directive to "coordinate all security and loyalty cases" results from several recent cases and the controversial McCarthy-Army investigations.

"It's chiefly because of the delay in clearance for three midshipmen in the recent Naval Academy graduating class and the case of that dentist, Peress," Ferguson told reporters when asked the purpose of the directive.

The case of Maj. Irving Peress, who was given an honorable discharge from the army after refusing to answer questions in the Senate Investigations subcommittee's investigation of alleged subversion in the army, has figured prominently in the hearings on the dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) and Pentagon officials.

Ferguson said the committee report will ask the Defense Department to "coordinate all security investigations under a single civilian official if possible."

He added that this official should stress two points:

"First that the due process of law and rights of all individuals be respected.

"Second that the security of the United States government be protected."

Will Meet Tuesday

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m., in Wallkill where the firemen will be guests of the Wallkill Hook & Ladder Company. Final plans for the convention in July are expected to be discussed.

Held for Speeding

Patrick Rooney, 24, of 349 Clifton avenue, was arrested by Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., on Albany avenue at 11:50 a. m., today on a charge of speeding. He was paroled for appearance in city court Saturday.

Two Are Injured In Auto Mishap Near High Falls

Wesley Van Vliet Is 'Critical' at Hospital and Ruth Brown Called 'Fair'

Wesley Van Vliet, 46, gasoline station proprietor of New Paltz, was critically injured and his passenger also was injured in a one-car accident on Route 213 near High Falls about 3 a. m. today.

Van Vliet and Miss Ruth Brown, 34, of 26 North Chestnut street, New Paltz, were taken to Kingston Hospital by two unknown men, the sheriff's office reported.

Reports on Condition

Hospital authorities later this morning reported Van Vliet's condition as "critical," and Miss Brown's as "fair."

A sheriff's office report of the accident said that five guard posts and two trees were damaged by the Van Vliet automobile, which apparently failed to negotiate a sharp left curve on the High Falls-Rosendale road about one mile east of High Falls. The entire front end and the undercarriage of the vehicle were damaged, according to the report.

Van Vliet's injuries were listed on the sheriff's office report as a compound fracture of the skull, fractured nose, ruptured sinus, loss of left eye, severe lacerations of the face, body, legs and arms. The same report listed Miss Brown's injuries as severe lacerations of the face and nose, fractured nose, laceration of the legs, and severe shock.

The sheriff's office was notified of the accident at 4:20 a. m. by Kingston Hospital authorities, who reported the injured persons had been brought in by two men who left immediately afterward without identifying themselves.

Eisele Investigates

Deputy Albert Eisele was assigned to investigate and learned through hospital attendants that the accident happened on the High Falls road. He reported that apparently the vehicle ran off the highway on the sharp curve, took down five guard posts and a small tree, then came to rest against a larger tree. Time of the accident was placed at about 3 a. m.

Howell Takes Stand

New York, June 11 (AP)—William Howell took the witness stand today in his murder trial and denied knowing that Edward (Snakes) Ryan was going to kill Thomas Lewis, Yonkers Raceway labor boss. Howell is accused of driving the "getaway" car in the Aug. 28 shooting in the Bronx apartment house where Lewis lived. Ryan was shot to death in a gun duel with a policeman while fleeing from the apartment house after slaying Lewis.

Rappleyea Will Take H.&R. Bulk Plant, Owners Report

Negotiations are under way which, when completed, will effect a transfer by A. Raymond Atkins and Ernest J. DuBois, as individuals, of property they controlled under the name of H. & R. Oil Corp. to several local interests.

The H. & R. bulk plant will go to Clarence P. Rappleyea, who has been employed by the corporation for 24 years. Rappleyea will continue the business under the name of H. & R. Oil Company, and will be jobber in the area handling Gulf products. The plant is located on Albany avenue extension.

Three Gulf service stations owned by Atkins and DuBois will be taken over by their present operators.

Werber to Purchase

The service station at 79-85 North Front street will be purchased by Henry J. Werber. The property includes the showroom, office and shop facilities of Harco Motors, Inc., Nash dealership, which Werber will lease to Edward Franz, who has been awarded the automobile agency and will continue it under the name of City Garage, as was announced previously. Werber will operate the service station part of the property.

Other service station transactions will see the Gulf station at Fair street and Greenkill avenue transferred to its operator, E. A. Parmalee; and the Gulf station at Broadway and St. James will be taken over by its operator, Jack Epstein.

The H. & R. Oil Corporation brought Gulf products to Kingston and this area in 1929, when the corporation was formed by Matthew H. Herzog and A. Raymond Atkins. In 1936, Ernest J. DuBois purchased Mr. Herzog's interest in the firm and became associated with Atkins in the corporation. In 1946, the same principals formed another corpor-

Democrats Work Up Campaign at Special Session

Objections to Rail Plan Are Swept Aside —Other Measures Approved

Albany, June 11 (AP)—Democrats today staked a claim to a new campaign issue based on the Republican-controlled Legislature's approval of a proposal to rescue the bankrupt Long Island Rail Road.

Democratic objections were swept aside during the one-day special session yesterday as both Houses voted along party lines to enact the plan, sponsored by Gov. Dewey, to rehabilitate the commuter line.

The proposal, advanced by agreement between the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Long Island Transit Authority, calls for the return of the Long Island to its parent, the Pennsylvania, and the launching of a $58,739,000, 12-year rebuilding program.

Two Main Issues

In nearly six hours of debate on the measure the Democrats, led by lawmakers from the New York city area, wove two main themes: That the Republicans were interested mainly in giving the Pennsylvania a financial break and that Dewey was "a dictatorial governor," bent only on satisfying his "own selfish wishes."

Although Democratic attempts to amend the rehabilitation plan and extend the scope of the session were beaten down, it was virtually certain that the minority party next fall would point with pride to those attempts.

And it was clear also that the Democrats planned to make use of any customer dissatisfaction with the new plan—particularly a fare-increase provision — in a drive to slash traditionally heavy Republican majorities in Suffolk and Nassau counties and return Queens to the Democratic column.

The LIRR reorganization plan —approved in the Senate 37-18 and in the House 94-51—also calls for:

Rehabilitation projects including the purchase of 184 new air-conditioned cars and the reconstruction of 696 cars.

A loan to the Long Island by the Pennsylvania of $5,500,000 as an initial payment in the rebuilding plan.

A maximum fare increase of 20 per cent, subject to review by the Public Service Commission.

A requirement that the Pennsylvania receive no interest, principal or dividend payments on its investment in the LIRR for the duration of the 12-year program.

Agreement by the Pennsylvania to make application for fare boosts to the PSC rather than the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission.

Relieving the Long Island of about 2½ million dollars in state and local taxes.

The Legislature also approved Dewey-sponsored measures that:

1. Permit the State Power Authority to issue negotiable notes, in advance of a bond issue, to start financing the 600-million-dollar St. Lawrence river power project.

The measure, which amends the State Power Authority Act, also authorizes the Power Authority to appropriate the land needed for the power development and streamlines appropriation procedures.

The power project will be undertaken jointly by the state and the Canadian province of Ontario.

2. Straighten out two technical kinks in the reapportionment law passed at a special session last year.

3. Authorize the Suffolk county board of supervisors to write off back taxes against the Long Island Rail Road.

4. Appropriate $11,000 to help provide disability pensions for two state Supreme Court justices, Lewis A. Gilbert of Newark and J. Gordon Flannery of Glenham.

Dewey signed the reapportionment measure, the power authority bill and the bill dealing with Suffolk county taxes shortly after the session adjourned. He is expected to sign the Long Island Rail Road measure within a few days.

Eisenhower Will Stay 'Everlastingly' at Ridding Nation of Subversion

Washington, June 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged last night to stay "everlastingly" at the job of uprooting subversion, and appealed for political unity on his legislative program—including his embattled flexible farm price support plan.

In a nationwide television and radio address, the President turned to the language of the atomic world and urged:

"Let us have less political fission and more political fusion."

And he called for speedy approval by Congress of a program he described as a "potent package of protection against Communism."

With him as he made the speech in a downtown hotel was an approval-whooping audience of close to 1,000 members and friends of the Citizens for Eisenhower congressional committee. When he concluded, the President's World War 2 mess sergeant, Marty Snyder, jumped to his feet and bellowed:

"Who are we going to elect in 1956?"

"Eisenhower!" the crowd roared back. The President grinned.

More Immediate Job

The more immediate job of the Citizens Committee — organized in 1952 to woo Democratic and independent votes to the Eisenhower presidential banner—is to try to increase in the November elections the slim margin by which the Republicans now control Congress.

In the Senate Republicans now have nothing more than nominal control, with Democrats actually outnumbering the GOP by one but choosing not to take over official leadership at this time. In the House Republicans have a 4-seat edge, 219-215.

The President's speech was his first full scale plug for his legislative program since he announced June 3 that from then on he was going to use every possible opportunity to call for a speedup of congressional action on it. With less than two months to the July 31 target date congressional leaders have set for adjournment, most of the program still is far from law.

Eisenhower called it a program "essential to a stronger America," and he pleaded: "Let us, therefore, not rest until these laws are passed."

Interrupted 32 Times

He was interrupted 32 times by applause with the biggest demonstrations coming when he:

1. Promised to "keep everlastingly at the job of uprooting subversion wherever it may be found." He said he felt he was not being egotistical in saying "every American believes that of me."

2. Declared with respect to his controversial plan to shift from rigid to flexible lower-level farm price supports that he is "completely unmoved by arguments as to what constitutes good or winning politics." He said he has been told by many that the farm plan—already once voted down by the House Agriculture Committee—is not good politics in an election year.

Even though he has not been in politics very long, he said, "I know

Big Manhunt Made for Man And $75,000

Phoenix, Ariz., June 11 (AP)—A giant police force combing the rugged Superstition mountains picked up fresh tracks of an armed and dangerous kidnaper early today.

The Pinal county sheriff's office reported that search parties came across the footprints while the main groups of searchers were heading off in a different direction through the barren, rocky terrain.

The tracks are following a power line and are headed back toward a main highway, between Apache junction and Florence junction.

Bloodhounds are being rushed to the area.

The sheriff's office said they represent the best lead that has been found since the trail was lost last night.

A mounted sheriff's posse was moving up the slopes of the Superstitions when the break came.

Woman Is Unharmed

Phoenix, Ariz., June 11 (AP)—A great manhunt spread around the Superstition mountains today for an armed kidnaper with $75,000 in ransom money.

He kidnaped Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith from in front of a Phoenix beauty parlor Wednesday and freed her in the mountains late yesterday.

The 23-year-old wife of a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive was unharmed.

Her ordeal ended when her husband, Herbert, struggled up a hill to her side after a masked man had fired at him with a rifle.

Evans Sells Tract For New Airport

Ray Coles Replaces IBM Site With 103 Acres in Flatbush Area

A corporation headed by Ray Coles, former operator of the Kingston-Ulster Airport, has purchased a 103-acre tract of land for development as an airport to replace the one that was taken over by IBM.

The transaction, completed this morning, transferred the land from Don Evans, the well known wrestler, to Kingston-Ulster Airport, Inc., a new corporation of which Coles is president and Joseph Columbo, vice president.

The property fronts on Route 32 in the Flatbush section, and also will front on the approach to Kingston Rhinecliff bridge.

To Start Work Immediately

Coles announced that work on construction for the airport will begin immediately, and should be completed sometime this summer.

The former Kingston-Ulster Airport, located on Boices Lane, was a part of the land purchased by International Business Machines Corporation for erection of a new Kingston plant.

This morning's transaction, involving the Evans property, was arranged through Frank Pescia, broker. Attorney Roger H. Loughran represented Evans, who is in Texas on a wrestling tour, and Attorney Vincent Connelly represented the airport corporation.

Britain, U. S. Have Pact on Procedure To Conclude Talks

Smith, Eden End Parley; Both Will Confer With Bidault at Geneva

Geneva, June 11 (AP)—Britain and the United States were reported to have agreed today on general procedure for winding up the deadlocked Geneva Conference..

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had a long conference on this problem today prior to Eden's meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Informed quarters said there was "a great amount of agreement" between Smith and Eden.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who returned this morning from Paris, planned to see both Eden and Smith in separate meetings during the day. Bidault will go back to the French capital tonight for the vote of confidence in the National Assembly tomorrow."

May End by Wednesday

It was understood the western powers expect to end the Korean phase of the conference by next Wednesday unless there are surprise developments. No details were known, however, of western plans for breaking off the Indochina talks.

Eden suggested the meeting with Molotov yesterday after declaring that the Indochina talks might as well be ended unless the conference can narrow the East-West differences without further delay.

There appeared to be no evidence that either side would make the concessions required for agreement.

One highly important western diplomat said: "The failure of the conference certainly seems to be within sight."

Awaiting the outcome of the Eden-Molotov meetings, the Indochina talks were in recess. The two diplomats are the chairmen of the conference.

A meeting of the 19-nation Korean conference, however, was set for this afternoon (9 a. m. EST). This, too, is deadlocked and western diplomats already have written it off as hopeless.

Fights Back Charge of Bad Actions

Says Remark to Stevens on Waldorf Detail Was Facetious One on Telephone

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy denied today he ever asked Secretary of the Army Stevens to assign Pvt. G. David Schine to the New York area as Stevens testified.

And McCarthy swore it was not true, as army Counselor John G. Adams testified, that Adams came to him on last Dec. 9 and complained he could no longer take "abuse" from Roy M. Cohn on the subject of Schine.

Under cross-examination at the McCarthy-army hearings, McCarthy fought back vigorously against army charges that he and his staff sought by improper means to get preferential treatment for Schine, wealthy New Yorker who was an unpaid staff consultant until drafted.

He didn't dispute that he once told Secretary Stevens — as a monitored telephone call records — that Cohn thought Schine "should be a general and work from a penthouse of the Waldorf."

Was Facetious

But McCarthy said that was "completely facetious"—that he was only "ribbing" the secretary.

McCarthy's forenoon testimony was punctuated by a brief, dramatic interlude when Sen. Flanders stalked into the hearing room, up to the witness chair, and tossed a note addressed to McCarthy onto the table in front of him.

It was notice to the Wisconsin Republican that the Vermont Republican intended to make a Senate speech during the afternoon about McCarthy.

In evident anger, McCarthy said that if Flanders had any information except "the usual smears" he should take the oath at once and give it to the hearings subcommittee. Flanders made no comment.

Has Made Speeches

Flanders has made two recent Senate speeches criticizing McCarthy. He asked last week whether Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, has "some hold" on McCarthy.

McCarthy said he wouldn't be in the Senate to hear Flanders—"I don't have enough interest in any Flanders speech to listen to it."

While McCarthy repeatedly dis-

Flanders Promises Speech In Senate About McCarthy

Washington, June 11 (AP) — Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) today demanded that the Senate oust Sen. McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee and its parent group unless McCarthy "purged himself of contempt" and answer charges made against him in 1952.

Flanders said in a proposed Senate speech that McCarthy had treated "with contempt" a three-man subcommittee set up in 1952 to investigate charges against McCarthy by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) and counter-charges of McCarthy.

The Vermont senator, who criticized McCarthy in two previous Senate speeches, noted that the 1952 subcommittee formally reported that McCarthy rejected its invitation to testify.

In the absence of testimony by McCarthy, the subcommittee reported it could not finally rule on the charges raised against him. Its report said the situation left unanswered such questions as whether McCarthy had used for his own benefit some of the money contributed to his fight against communism and whether McCarthy had improperly accepted a $10,000 fee from a housing firm for a booklet he wrote.

Gives Notice to Senator

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R.-Vt.) strode into the McCarthy-army hearings today and gave Sen. McCarthy a note advising he would make a Senate speech about McCarthy this afternoon.

McCarthy read its invitation to be present and commented: "I don't have enough interest in any Flander's speech to listen to it."

McCarthy then demanded that Flanders, if he has any information about the McCarthy-army controversy, "take the oath, raise

French Airmen Strike Red Guerrillas and Ammo Dump

Hanoi, Indochina, June 11 (AP)—French airmen flying U. S.-supplied fighters struck in the night against two Vietminh guerrilla bases within the Red river delta and an ammunition dump of the rebel regulars massed menacingly around the delta's rim.

A French spokesman announced 50 tons of high explosives were loosed on the ammunition dump at Yen Bay, on the Red river 75 miles northwest of Hanoi, and guerrilla concentrations at Binh Ngo, 12 miles east of Hanoi, and Decau, 25 miles southeast of this war capital.

Elsewhere in the delta, the spokesman said, French Union troops pushed mopup operations against the guerrillas and infiltrating units of Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's Red command. He said 23 rebels were killed and three captured yesterday.

Gen. Paul Ely, France's new military and political chief in Indochina, arrived here last night with the promise he would lead the fight against the Communist-led rebels in the area. Ely said he had come to Hanoi from Saigon because he believed the commander in chief should be with his fighting men.

Vietnamese Premier Prince Buu Loc and members of his war cabinet also met in the city for the first time. At their session last night, they drafted a vest-pocket "GI Bill of Rights" designed to speed the badly lagging plans to increase the Vietnamese army to 500,000 men by the end of the year.

There has been little public response to previous enlistment appeals and draft dodging has been widespread.

And it was clear also that the Democrats planned to make use of any customer dissatisfaction with the new plan—particularly a fare-increase provision — in a drive to slash traditionally heavy Republican majorities in Suffolk and Nassau counties and return Queens to the Democratic column.

The LIRR reorganization plan —approved in the Senate 37-18 and in the House 94-51—also calls for:

Rehabilitation projects including the purchase of 184 new air-conditioned cars and the reconstruction of 696 cars.

A loan to the Long Island by the Pennsylvania of $5,500,000 as an initial payment in the rebuilding plan.

A maximum fare increase of 20 per cent, subject to review by the Public Service Commission.

A requirement that the Pennsylvania receive no interest, principal or dividend payments on its investment in the LIRR for the duration of the 12-year program.

Agreement by the Pennsylvania to make application for fare boosts to the PSC rather than the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission.

Relieving the Long Island of about 2½ million dollars in state and local taxes.

The Legislature also approved Dewey-sponsored measures that:

1. Permit the State Power Authority to issue negotiable notes, in advance of a bond issue, to start financing the 600-million-dollar St. Lawrence river power project.

The measure, which amends the State Power Authority Act, also authorizes the Power Authority to appropriate the land needed for the power development and streamlines appropriation procedures.

The power project will be undertaken jointly by the state and the Canadian province of Ontario.

2. Straighten out two technical kinks in the reapportionment law passed at a special session last year.

3. Authorize the Suffolk county board of supervisors to write off back taxes against the Long Island Rail Road.

4. Appropriate $11,000 to help provide disability pensions for two state Supreme Court justices, Lewis A. Gilbert of Newark and J. Gordon Flannery of Glenham.

Dewey signed the reapportionment measure, the power authority bill and the bill dealing with Suffolk county taxes shortly after the session adjourned. He is expected to sign the Long Island Rail Road measure within a few days.

Eisenhower Will Stay 'Everlastingly' at Ridding Nation of Subversion

Washington, June 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged last night to stay "everlastingly" at the job of uprooting subversion, and appealed for political unity on his legislative program—including his embattled flexible farm price support plan.

In a nationwide television and radio address, the President turned to the language of the atomic world and urged:

"Let us have less political fission and more political fusion."

And he called for speedy approval by Congress of a program he described as a "potent package of protection against Communism."

With him as he made the speech in a downtown hotel was an approval-whooping audience of close to 1,000 members and friends of the Citizens for Eisenhower congressional committee. When he concluded, the President's World War 2 mess sergeant, Marty Snyder, jumped to his feet and bellowed:

"Who are we going to elect in 1956?"

"Eisenhower!" the crowd roared back. The President grinned.

More Immediate Job

The more immediate job of the Citizens Committee — organized in 1952 to woo Democratic and independent votes to the Eisenhower presidential banner—is to try to increase in the November elections the slim margin by which the Republicans now control Congress.

In the Senate Republicans now have nothing more than nominal control, with Democrats actually outnumbering the GOP by one but choosing not to take over official leadership at this time. In the House Republicans have a 4-seat edge, 219-215.

The President's speech was his first full scale plug for his legislative program since he announced June 3 that from then on he was going to use every possible opportunity to call for a speedup of congressional action on it. With less than two months to the July 31 target date congressional leaders have set for adjournment, most of the program still is far from law.

Eisenhower called it a program "essential to a stronger America," and he pleaded: "Let us, therefore, not rest until these laws are passed."

Interrupted 32 Times

He was interrupted 32 times by applause with the biggest demonstrations coming when he:

1. Promised to "keep everlastingly at the job of uprooting subversion wherever it may be found." He said he felt he was not being egotistical in saying "every American believes that of me."

2. Declared with respect to his controversial plan to shift from rigid to flexible lower-level farm price supports that he is "completely unmoved by arguments as to what constitutes good or winning politics." He said he has been told by many that the farm plan—already once voted down by the House Agriculture Committee—is not good politics in an election year.

Even though he has not been in politics very long, he said, "I know

Big Manhunt Made for Man And $75,000

Phoenix, Ariz., June 11 (AP)—A giant police force combing the rugged Superstition mountains picked up fresh tracks of an armed and dangerous kidnaper early today.

The Pinal county sheriff's office reported that search parties came across the footprints while the main groups of searchers were heading off in a different direction through the barren, rocky terrain.

The tracks are following a power line and are headed back toward a main highway, between Apache junction and Florence junction.

Bloodhounds are being rushed to the area.

The sheriff's office said they represent the best lead that has been found since the trail was lost last night.

A mounted sheriff's posse was moving up the slopes of the Superstitions when the break came.

Woman Is Unharmed

Phoenix, Ariz., June 11 (AP)—A great manhunt spread around the Superstition mountains today for an armed kidnaper with $75,000 in ransom money.

He kidnaped Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith from in front of a Phoenix beauty parlor Wednesday and freed her in the mountains late yesterday.

The 23-year-old wife of a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive was unharmed.

Her ordeal ended when her husband, Herbert, struggled up a hill to her side after a masked man had fired at him with a rifle.

Evans Sells Tract For New Airport

Ray Coles Replaces IBM Site With 103 Acres in Flatbush Area

A corporation headed by Ray Coles, former operator of the Kingston-Ulster Airport, has purchased a 103-acre tract of land for development as an airport to replace the one that was taken over by IBM.

The transaction, completed this morning, transferred the land from Don Evans, the well known wrestler, to Kingston-Ulster Airport, Inc., a new corporation of which Coles is president and Joseph Columbo, vice president.

The property fronts on Route 32 in the Flatbush section, and also will front on the approach to Kingston Rhinecliff bridge.

To Start Work Immediately

Coles announced that work on construction for the airport will begin immediately, and should be completed sometime this summer.

The former Kingston-Ulster Airport, located on Boices Lane, was a part of the land purchased by International Business Machines Corporation for erection of a new Kingston plant.

This morning's transaction, involving the Evans property, was arranged through Frank Pescia, broker. Attorney Roger H. Loughran represented Evans, who is in Texas on a wrestling tour, and Attorney Vincent Connelly represented the airport corporation.

Britain, U. S. Have Pact on Procedure To Conclude Talks

Smith, Eden End Parley; Both Will Confer With Bidault at Geneva

Geneva, June 11 (AP)—Britain and the United States were reported to have agreed today on general procedure for winding up the deadlocked Geneva Conference.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had a long conference on this problem today prior to Eden's meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Informed quarters said there was "a great amount of agreement" between Smith and Eden.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who returned this morning from Paris, planned to see both Eden and Smith in separate meetings during the day. Bidault will go back to the French capital tonight for the vote of confidence in the National Assembly tomorrow."

May End by Wednesday

It was understood the western powers expect to end the Korean phase of the conference by next Wednesday unless there are surprise developments. No details were known, however, of western plans for breaking off the Indochina talks.

Eden suggested the meeting with Molotov yesterday after declaring that the Indochina talks might as well be ended unless the conference can narrow the East-West differences without further delay.

There appeared to be no evidence that either side would make the concessions required for agreement.

One highly important western diplomat said: "The failure of the conference certainly seems to be within sight."

Awaiting the outcome of the Eden-Molotov meetings, the Indochina talks were in recess. The two diplomats are the chairmen of the conference.

A meeting of the 19-nation Korean conference, however, was set for this afternoon (9 a. m. EST). This, too, is deadlocked and western diplomats already have written it off as hopeless.

Fights Back Charge of Bad Actions

Says Remark to Stevens on Waldorf Detail Was Facetious One on Telephone

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy denied today he ever asked Secretary of the Army Stevens to assign Pvt. G. David Schine to the New York area as Stevens testified.

And McCarthy swore it was not true, as army Counselor John G. Adams testified, that Adams came to him on last Dec. 9 and complained he could no longer take "abuse" from Roy M. Cohn on the subject of Schine.

Under cross-examination at the McCarthy-army hearings, McCarthy fought back vigorously against army charges that he and his staff sought by improper means to get preferential treatment for Schine, wealthy New Yorker who was an unpaid staff consultant until drafted.

He didn't dispute that he once told Secretary Stevens — as a monitored telephone call records — that Cohn thought Schine "should be a general and work from a penthouse of the Waldorf."

Was Facetious

But McCarthy said that was "completely facetious"—that he was only "ribbing" the secretary.

McCarthy's forenoon testimony was punctuated by a brief, dramatic interlude when Sen. Flanders stalked into the hearing room, up to the witness chair, and tossed a note addressed to McCarthy onto the table in front of him.

It was notice to the Wisconsin Republican that the Vermont Republican intended to make a Senate speech during the afternoon about McCarthy.

In evident anger, McCarthy said that if Flanders had any information except "the usual smears" he should take the oath at once and give it to the hearings subcommittee. Flanders made no comment.

Has Made Speeches

Flanders has made two recent Senate speeches criticizing McCarthy. He asked last week whether Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, has "some hold" on McCarthy.

McCarthy said he wouldn't be in the Senate to hear Flanders—"I don't have enough interest in any Flanders speech to listen to it."

While McCarthy repeatedly dis-

Flanders Promises Speech In Senate About McCarthy

Washington, June 11 (AP) — Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) today demanded that the Senate oust Sen. McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee and its parent group unless McCarthy "purged himself of contempt" and answer charges made against him in 1952.

Flanders said in a proposed Senate speech that McCarthy had treated "with contempt" a three-man subcommittee set up in 1952 to investigate charges against McCarthy by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) and counter-charges of McCarthy.

The Vermont senator, who criticized McCarthy in two previous Senate speeches, noted that the 1952 subcommittee formally reported that McCarthy rejected its invitation to testify.

In the absence of testimony by McCarthy, the subcommittee reported it could not finally rule on the charges raised against him. Its report said the situation left unanswered such questions as whether McCarthy had used for his own benefit some of the money contributed to his fight against communism and whether McCarthy had improperly accepted a $10,000 fee from a housing firm for a booklet he wrote.

Gives Notice to Senator

Washington, June 11 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R.-Vt.) strode into the McCarthy-army hearings today and gave Sen. McCarthy a note advising he would make a Senate speech about McCarthy this afternoon.

McCarthy read its invitation to be present and commented: "I don't have enough interest in any Flander's speech to listen to it."

McCarthy then demanded that Flanders, if he has any information about the McCarthy-army controversy, "take the oath, raise

Rappleyea Will Take H.&R. Bulk Plant, Owners Report

Negotiations are under way which, when completed, will effect a transfer by A. Raymond Atkins and Ernest J. DuBois, as individuals, of property they controlled under the name of H. & R. Oil Corp. to several local interests.

The H. & R. bulk plant will go to Clarence P. Rappleyea, who has been employed by the corporation for 24 years. Rappleyea will continue the business under the name of H. & R. Oil Company, and will be jobber in the area handling Gulf products. The plant is located on Albany avenue extension.

Three Gulf service stations owned by Atkins and DuBois will be taken over by their present operators.

Werber to Purchase

The service station at 79-85 North Front street will be purchased by Henry J. Werber. The property includes the showroom, office and shop facilities of Harco Motors, Inc., Nash dealership, which Werber will lease to Edward Franz, who has been awarded the automobile agency and will continue it under the name of City Garage, as was announced previously. Werber will operate the service station part of the property.

Other service station transactions will see the Gulf station at Fair street and Greenkill avenue transferred to its operator, E. A. Parmalee; and the Gulf station at Broadway and St. James will be taken over by its operator, Jack Epstein.

The H. & R. Oil Corporation brought Gulf products to Kingston and this area in 1929, when the corporation was formed by Matthew H. Herzog and A. Raymond Atkins. In 1936, Ernest J. DuBois purchased Mr. Herzog's interest in the firm and became associated with Atkins in the corporation. In 1946, the same principals formed another corpor-

French Airmen Strike Red Guerrillas and Ammo Dump

Hanoi, Indochina, June 11 (AP)—French airmen flying U. S.-supplied fighters struck in the night against two Vietminh guerrilla bases within the Red river delta and an ammunition dump of the rebel regulars massed menacingly around the delta's rim.

A French spokesman announced 50 tons of high explosives were loosed on the ammunition dump at Yen Bay, on the Red river 75 miles northwest of Hanoi, and guerrilla concentrations at Binh Ngo, 12 miles east of Hanoi, and Decau, 25 miles southeast of this war capital.

Elsewhere in the delta, the spokesman said, French Union troops pushed mopup operations against the guerrillas and infiltrating units of Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's Red command. He said 23 rebels were killed and three captured yesterday.

Gen. Paul Ely, France's new military and political chief in Indochina, arrived here last night with the promise he would lead the fight against the Communist-led rebels in the area. Ely said he had come to Hanoi from Saigon because he believed the commander in chief should be with his fighting men.

Vietnamese Premier Prince Buu Loc and members of his war cabinet also met in the city for the first time. At their session last night, they drafted a vest-pocket "GI Bill of Rights" designed to speed the badly lagging plans to increase the Vietnamese army to 500,000 men by the end of the year.

There has been little public response to previous enlistment appeals and draft dodging has been widespread.

Big Manhunt

contained in two notes, had taken $75,000 in $100, $50, $20 and $10 bills into the purple-hazed Superstitions towering over the central Arizona desert.

Gets Valise, Vanishes

The kidnaper picked up the valise containing the ransom and vanished into the dusk-shadowed brush and cactus. He was carrying a rifle and a revolver.

With Mrs. Smith safe at home with her husband and two children, FBI agents and state and local officers circled the area where the ransom was collected. Road blocks were thrown up. Desert-wise sheriff's deputies threaded through the rugged country with bloodhounds.

They were hunting a man described as 35 to 40 years old; short; light brown hair; with very muscular arms, large mouth and ears and close-set eyes.

The searching parties maintained communication with each other by walkie-talkie radio.

Said He Was Dying

Mrs. Smith told officers that her kidnaper said he was dying of cancer and "pulled the job so I can have one last fling."

The kidnaping was replete with bizarre elements. The ransom note was placed in the side pocket of Smith's golf bag, which was left at a desert service station, a note of instructions on payment of the ransam was delivered to Smith's home in a bouquet of roses. Two other notes were left under piles of rocks which designate mining claim boundaries. The ransom note warned one of these sites was mined with dynamite.

Mrs. Smith, sunburned and frightened but otherwise in good condition, gave officers this statement upon reaching her home:

When she came out of the beauty parlor at 1 p. m. Wednesday a strange man with a gun was hiding in her car. She said she screamed, honked the horn and struggled but didn't attract any attention.

The man drove to the Salt river and put her in the car trunk. She was let out when they reached the mountains.

"He was very polite," the young mother said.

"When we arrived at the mountain, I couldn't get out of the trunk of the car, and he helped me."

Mrs. Smith said her abductor told her he had an accomplice, that he was from Chicago and that he was going to Canyon Lake, about 17 miles across the mountain from where he left her.

Officers were waiting at the lake early today.

Until word of Mrs. Smith's safety was received, newspapers, news services and radio stations had cooperated with a police and FBI request that they remain silent about the kidnaping for fear an alarmed abductor might kill his captive.

President Asks

that what is right for America is politically right."

The most prolonged applause and cheers came as Eisenhower pledged to stay constantly on the job of digging out subversives. A few minutes earlier he had touched off a round of laughter with his only allusion to the Army-McCarthy controversy:

"In spite of highly publicized distractions, Congress has been hard at work."

Then he ticked off progress on appropriations bills, highway construction legislation, tax cuts, approval of the St. Lawrence seaway project, and ratification of a mutual security treaty with South Korea.

"But much still remains which is of vital importance to every American citizen," the President declared in appealing for action on the rest of his program.

Most of Eisenhower's address dealt with domestic affairs, but he said his program for keeping America strong economically, militarily and on the human side also includes a vigorous and forthright foreign policy.

That policy, he added, is opposed to imperialistic ambition, takes into full account America's air and atomic might, and is geared to successful opposition to "any rash aggression by the Communists."

On the domestic side, Eisenhower urged enactment of his tax revision program, saying it is designed to assure a fairer distribution of the tax burden. The bill has been passed by the House and will come up for Senate action soon.

He also prodded the lawmakers for conclusive action on extension of unemployment insurance, expansion of social security coverage and an increase in benefits, the administration's health and housing programs, and a broader plan for rehabilitation of disabled people.

Two Paltz Men Face Morals Count

Two New Paltz area men were arrested Thursday night on first degree rape charges which allegedly involved a 17-year-old girl, state police of Highland reported.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace P. J. Conforti of the town of Lloyd were Morris Graham, 50, and David Johnson, 33, both of New Paltz R.F.D. Both were ordered held for grand jury action.

Troopers said the alleged rape occurred on or about June 6, with the girl's consent.

Franklin Street Man Is Arrested For Drunk Driving

Arthur Markle, 50, of 110 Franklin street, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and having no license in his possession after a mishap at Henry and Oak streets early today.

Officers Everett Emmick and John Houghtaling reported at 1:04 a. m., that Markle's sedan, was headed west on Henry street and attempting to turn right into Oak street, when it "jumped the curb, ran in between two trees and into a retaining wall in front of 153 Henry street."

Adjourned to Monday

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today put the case over until Monday to give the defendant time to obtain counsel. He was released under $100 bail.

Thomas A. Larkin, 59, of West Camp, who, authorities said, failed to appear in court after an arrest last Dec. 24, was picked up early today on a bench warrant, and when he appeared before Judge Mino later today was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

A police report at 1:15 a. m., said the sheriff's office had notified police headquarters that the Saugerties police had apprehended Larkin and were detaining him on the bench warrant. He was picked up by Officer Hydrect Armstrong of the local police, and Deputy Sheriff Albert Eisele. Larkin originally had been arrested on a public intoxication charge, and authorities said, he was paroled for city court appearance, but did not appear.

Two Other Cases

Donald Fitzgerald, 22, of 81 Chambers street, was arrested on Broadway near Delaware avenue at 9:55 p. m., yesterday by Officer William Slover on charges that he drove with an illegal license plate and had no operator's license. The plate was confiscated and Judge Mino put the case over for a week to allow the defendant time to produce his license.

Robert G. Berg, 24, of 901 Elizabeth street, Elizabeth, N. J., driver of a trailer truck, was arrested at 4:40 p. m., yesterday on a charge of speeding by Officer Ernest Bartroff on East Chester street. Judge Mino today imposed a fine of $25.

McCarthy Denies

puted testimony from Stevens and Adams, he invariably said they were "mistaken" or questioned their memories.

As to Adams, McCarthy said: "I wouldn't evaluate Mr. Adams' testimony and accuse him of perjury."

Stevens, McCarthy said, "has proven that he has a very bad memory. He changed his testimony from day to day."

"Undoubtedly that's what he remembered," McCarthy said in referring to Adams' version of a conversation with McCarthy last Dec. 9.

Complains of Attitude

Adams testified he went to McCarthy's office and complained about Cohn's attitude and said he was "no longer able to take this abuse."

Special hearings counsel Ray H. Jenkins, conducting the cross-examination, noted Adams swore he asked McCarthy to speak to Cohn about the matter.

"Did Adams make that statement to you?" asked Jenkins.

"He did not make that statement," McCarthy replied.

Jenkins asked if Adams had said in substance what he had related.

"No, sir," McCarthy replied.

McCarthy also said:

1. That Stevens was "in error" but probably 'not wilfully" when he testified that on Dec. 10 McCarthy asked that Schine be given a two-week assignment to New York.

2. That Adams was "mistaken" when he testified that McCarthy had told him on Dec. 17 that there would be no more "interference" by subcommittee staff members with Schine's tour of duty as a draftee at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Jenkins read Stevens' testimony that at a Dec. 10 luncheon McCarthy asked him to assign Schine to New York for two weeks.

"He is in error on that," McCarthy said.

"Did or did not you make such a request?" Jenkins asked.

"Not," McCarthy replied.

Jenkins quoted Stevens as testifying that on Jan. 14, at a luncheon at a hotel here, McCarthy "on four or five occasions" brought up the question of whether Schine could be assigned to New York after his basic training.

"Did that occur?" asked Jenkins.

"No, it did not occur," McCarthy replied.

General Discussion

McCarthy testified that on that occasion there was a general discussion about a possible survey of materials used by the Army War College and that Stevens himself suggested that perhaps Schine could be of use in that connection.

The senator said he cautioned Stevens that the army would have to be careful not to create "any plush assignment" for Schine or anyone else connected with the subcommittee lest it look bad "for us."

In summary McCarthy said, "I made no request that Dave be assigned anywhere, period."

McCarthy disputed another statement—that made by Adams earlier in the hearings that Cohn bitterly attacked him in New York for what Adams said Cohn called "double crosses" by Secretary Stevens and the Army over Schine's Army leaves.

Told to Leave Car

The occasion was Dec. 17, 1953, when Adams testified Cohn told him to get out of his automobile in the middle of Park avenue traffic as he drove uptown with Cohn, McCarthy and Carr.

Financial and Commercial

Rappleyea Will

ation, Harco Motors, Inc., which obtained the Nash automobile franchise in this territory.

Will Be Jobber

The name H. & R. Oil Company, under which Rappleyea will operate as Gulf jobber from the bulk plant on Albany avenue extension, is not to be confused with H. & R. Oil Corporation, which will dissolve with the current transactions.

It is assumed that Atkins, who in addition to his oil and automobile interests is head of an accounting firm with offices at 44 Main street, will continue his interests there. He is at present a patient at Liberty Hospital, where he is reportedly recuperating satisfactorily from a sudden attack of illness last week.

DuBois said today he is unable to announce what his future plans will be, beyond saying that he has some property in Florida and expects to spend a little more time there than he has been able to in the past.

Flanders Promises

your right hand."

And, if he has "nothing except the usual smears . . . from the smear sheets" he should say it before the subcommittee conducting the hearing and not on the Senate floor.

Flanders was observing an unwritten Senate rule in this notification to McCarthy.

The custom is that a senator should give notice when he plans a speech about another senator so that the one attacked may be present and reply immediately if he desires.

McCarthy commented that when Flanders made a recent Senate speech attacking him he didn't have the courtesy to notify him in advance.

In that speech last week, Flanders described McCarthy as "Dennis the Menace."

Flanders also said that if McCarthy were "in the pay of the Communists he could not have done a better job for them."

In a reply at the hearings, McCarthy called Flanders' speech "vicious and dishonest."

Flanders had asked in his speech whether Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, has "some hold on the senator?"

He asked:

"Can it be that our Dennis, so effective in making trouble for his elders, has at last gotten into trouble himself? Does the committee plan to investigate the real issues at stake?"

"Dennis the Menace" is a juvenile cartoon character created by Hank Ketcham.

McCarthy appeared to be in a cold rage as he challenged Flanders to testify under oath if he had any information.

McCarthy made a gesture as if the step aside and let Flanders take his seat, but Acting Chairman Mundt (R.-S.D.) intervened.

"We can't have this feuding," Mundt said.

McCarthy snapped that he was not feuding with Flanders.

He declared that he thought Flanders speech about him last week was "not the result of viciousness, but because of senility."

Flanders' notice to McCarthy was short, saying "this is to inform you I plan to make another speech" on the Senate floor this afternoon concerning McCarthy's activities.

The Vermont senator stalked into the hearing room to deliver his notice as McCarthy was testifying under cross examination.

He turned away as though to leave, but McCarthy shouted that he be asked to remain.

Flanders turned about and stood to one side of the witness table gazing stonily at McCarthy until Mundt halted the incident and instructed Flanders to go back among the spectators.

Mundt observed: "We seem to be good for one surprise a day."

Big Manhunt

contained in two notes, had taken $75,000 in $100, $50, $20 and $10 bills into the purple-hazed Superstitions towering over the central Arizona desert.

Gets Valise, Vanishes

The kidnaper picked up the valise containing the ransom and vanished into the dusk-shadowed brush and cactus. He was carrying a rifle and a revolver.

With Mrs. Smith safe at home with her husband and two children, FBI agents and state and local officers circled the area where the ransom was collected. Road blocks were thrown up. Desert-wise sheriff's deputies threaded through the rugged country with bloodhounds.

They were hunting a man described as 35 to 40 years old; short; light brown hair; with very muscular arms, large mouth and ears and close-set eyes.

The searching parties maintained communication with each other by walkie-talkie radio.

Said He Was Dying

Mrs. Smith told officers that her kidnaper said he was dying of cancer and "pulled the job so I can have one last fling."

The kidnaping was replete with bizarre elements. The ransom note was placed in the side pocket of Smith's golf bag, which was left at a desert service station, a note of instructions on payment of the ransam was delivered to Smith's home in a bouquet of roses. Two other notes were left under piles of rocks which designate mining claim boundaries. The ransom note warned one of these sites was mined with dynamite.

Mrs. Smith, sunburned and frightened but otherwise in good condition, gave officers this statement upon reaching her home:

When she came out of the beauty parlor at 1 p. m. Wednesday a strange man with a gun was hiding in her car. She said she screamed, honked the horn and struggled but didn't attract any attention.

The man drove to the Salt river and put her in the car trunk. She was let out when they reached the mountains.

"He was very polite," the young mother said.

"When we arrived at the mountain, I couldn't get out of the trunk of the car, and he helped me."

Mrs. Smith said her abductor told her he had an accomplice, that he was from Chicago and that he was going to Canyon Lake, about 17 miles across the mountain from where he left her.

Officers were waiting at the lake early today.

Until word of Mrs. Smith's safety was received, newspapers, news services and radio stations had cooperated with a police and FBI request that they remain silent about the kidnaping for fear an alarmed abductor might kill his captive.

President Asks

that what is right for America is politically right."

The most prolonged applause and cheers came as Eisenhower pledged to stay constantly on the job of digging out subversives. A few minutes earlier he had touched off a round of laughter with his only allusion to the Army-McCarthy controversy:

"In spite of highly publicized distractions, Congress has been hard at work."

Then he ticked off progress on appropriations bills, highway construction legislation, tax cuts, approval of the St. Lawrence seaway project, and ratification of a mutual security treaty with South Korea.

"But much still remains which is of vital importance to every American citizen," the President declared in appealing for action on the rest of his program.

Most of Eisenhower's address dealt with domestic affairs, but he said his program for keeping America strong economically, militarily and on the human side also includes a vigorous and forthright foreign policy.

That policy, he added, is opposed to imperialistic ambition, takes into full account America's air and atomic might, and is geared to successful opposition to "any rash aggression by the Communists."

On the domestic side, Eisenhower urged enactment of his tax revision program, saying it is designed to assure a fairer distribution of the tax burden. The bill has been passed by the House and will come up for Senate action soon.

He also prodded the lawmakers for conclusive action on extension of unemployment insurance, expansion of social security coverage and an increase in benefits, the administration's health and housing programs, and a broader plan for rehabilitation of disabled people.

Two Paltz Men Face Morals Count

Two New Paltz area men were arrested Thursday night on first degree rape charges which allegedly involved a 17-year-old girl, state police of Highland reported.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace P. J. Conforti of the town of Lloyd were Morris Graham, 50, and David Johnson, 33, both of New Paltz R.F.D. Both were ordered held for grand jury action.

Troopers said the alleged rape occurred on or about June 6, with the girl's consent.

Franklin Street Man Is Arrested For Drunk Driving

Arthur Markle, 50, of 110 Franklin street, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and having no license in his possession after a mishap at Henry and Oak streets early today.

Officers Everett Emmick and John Houghtaling reported at 1:04 a. m., that Markle's sedan, was headed west on Henry street and attempting to turn right into Oak street, when it "jumped the curb, ran in between two trees and into a retaining wall in front of 153 Henry street."

Adjourned to Monday

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today put the case over until Monday to give the defendant time to obtain counsel. He was released under $100 bail.

Thomas A. Larkin, 59, of West Camp, who, authorities said, failed to appear in court after an arrest last Dec. 24, was picked up early today on a bench warrant, and when he appeared before Judge Mino later today was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

A police report at 1:15 a. m., said the sheriff's office had notified police headquarters that the Saugerties police had apprehended Larkin and were detaining him on the bench warrant. He was picked up by Officer Hydrect Armstrong of the local police, and Deputy Sheriff Albert Eisele. Larkin originally had been arrested on a public intoxication charge, and authorities said, he was paroled for city court appearance, but did not appear.

Two Other Cases

Donald Fitzgerald, 22, of 81 Chambers street, was arrested on Broadway near Delaware avenue at 9:55 p. m., yesterday by Officer William Slover on charges that he drove with an illegal license plate and had no operator's license. The plate was confiscated and Judge Mino put the case over for a week to allow the defendant time to produce his license.

Robert G. Berg, 24, of 901 Elizabeth street, Elizabeth, N. J., driver of a trailer truck, was arrested at 4:40 p. m., yesterday on a charge of speeding by Officer Ernest Bartroff on East Chester street. Judge Mino today imposed a fine of $25.

McCarthy Denies

puted testimony from Stevens and Adams, he invariably said they were "mistaken" or questioned their memories.

As to Adams, McCarthy said: "I wouldn't evaluate Mr. Adams' testimony and accuse him of perjury."

Stevens, McCarthy said, "has proven that he has a very bad memory. He changed his testimony from day to day."

"Undoubtedly that's what he remembered," McCarthy said in referring to Adams' version of a conversation with McCarthy last Dec. 9.

Complains of Attitude

Adams testified he went to McCarthy's office and complained about Cohn's attitude and said he was "no longer able to take this abuse."

Special hearings counsel Ray H. Jenkins, conducting the cross-examination, noted Adams swore he asked McCarthy to speak to Cohn about the matter.

"Did Adams make that statement to you?" asked Jenkins.

"He did not make that statement," McCarthy replied.

Jenkins asked if Adams had said in substance what he had related.

"No, sir," McCarthy replied.

McCarthy also said:

1. That Stevens was "in error" but probably 'not wilfully" when he testified that on Dec. 10 McCarthy asked that Schine be given a two-week assignment to New York.

2. That Adams was "mistaken" when he testified that McCarthy had told him on Dec. 17 that there would be no more "interference" by subcommittee staff members with Schine's tour of duty as a draftee at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Jenkins read Stevens' testimony that at a Dec. 10 luncheon McCarthy asked him to assign Schine to New York for two weeks.

"He is in error on that," McCarthy said.

"Did or did not you make such a request?" Jenkins asked.

"Not," McCarthy replied.

Jenkins quoted Stevens as testifying that on Jan. 14, at a luncheon at a hotel here, McCarthy "on four or five occasions" brought up the question of whether Schine could be assigned to New York after his basic training.

"Did that occur?" asked Jenkins.

"No, it did not occur," McCarthy replied.

General Discussion

McCarthy testified that on that occasion there was a general discussion about a possible survey of materials used by the Army War College and that Stevens himself suggested that perhaps Schine could be of use in that connection.

The senator said he cautioned Stevens that the army would have to be careful not to create "any plush assignment" for Schine or anyone else connected with the subcommittee lest it look bad "for us."

In summary McCarthy said, "I made no request that Dave be assigned anywhere, period."

McCarthy disputed another statement—that made by Adams earlier in the hearings that Cohn bitterly attacked him in New York for what Adams said Cohn called "double crosses" by Secretary Stevens and the Army over Schine's Army leaves.

Told to Leave Car

The occasion was Dec. 17, 1953, when Adams testified Cohn told him to get out of his automobile in the middle of Park avenue traffic as he drove uptown with Cohn, McCarthy and Carr.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 11 (AP)—The stock market moved higher under the influence of broadening demand.

It was the second straight day of recovery following two days of sharp reaction.

Gains went to between 1 and 2 points occassionally. Losses were almost entirely below a point. Business ran at a pace a little under yesterday's law, 1,610,000 shares.

Rappleyea Will

ation, Harco Motors, Inc., which obtained the Nash automobile franchise in this territory.

Will Be Jobber

The name H. & R. Oil Company, under which Rappleyea will operate as Gulf jobber from the bulk plant on Albany avenue extension, is not to be confused with H. & R. Oil Corporation, which will dissolve with the current transactions.

It is assumed that Atkins, who in addition to his oil and automobile interests is head of an accounting firm with offices at 44 Main street, will continue his interests there. He is at present a patient at Liberty Hospital, where he is reportedly recuperating satisfactorily from a sudden attack of illness last week.

DuBois said today he is unable to announce what his future plans will be, beyond saying that he has some property in Florida and expects to spend a little more time there than he has been able to in the past.

your right hand."

And, if he has "nothing except the usual smears . . . from the smear sheets" he should say it before the subcommittee conducting the hearing and not on the Senate floor.

Flanders was observing an unwritten Senate rule in this notification to McCarthy.

The custom is that a senator should give notice when he plans a speech about another senator so that the one attacked may be present and reply immediately if he desires.

McCarthy commented that when Flanders made a recent Senate speech attacking him he didn't have the courtesy to notify him in advance.

In that speech last week, Flanders described McCarthy as "Dennis the Menace."

Flanders also said that if McCarthy were "in the pay of the Communists he could not have done a better job for them."

In a reply at the hearings, McCarthy called Flanders' speech "vicious and dishonest."

Flanders had asked in his speech whether Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, has "some hold on the senator?"

He asked:

"Can it be that our Dennis, so effective in making trouble for his elders, has at last gotten into trouble himself? Does the committee plan to investigate the real issues at stake?"

"Dennis the Menace" is a juvenile cartoon character created by Hank Ketcham.

McCarthy appeared to be in a cold rage as he challenged Flanders to testify under oath if he had any information.

McCarthy made a gesture as if the step aside and let Flanders take his seat, but Acting Chairman Mundt (R.-S.D.) intervened.

"We can't have this feuding," Mundt said.

McCarthy snapped that he was not feuding with Flanders.

He declared that he thought Flanders speech about him last week was "not the result of viciousness, but because of senility."

Flanders' notice to McCarthy was short, saying "this is to inform you I plan to make another speech" on the Senate floor this afternoon concerning McCarthy's activities.

The Vermont senator stalked into the hearing room to deliver his notice as McCarthy was testifying under cross examination.

He turned away as though to leave, but McCarthy shouted that he be asked to remain.

Flanders turned about and stood to one side of the witness table gazing stonily at McCarthy until Mundt halted the incident and instructed Flanders to go back among the spectators.

Mundt observed: "We seem to be good for one surprise a day."

SWP HOUSE PAINT
lasts longer...saves money

$6.13 Gallon in 5s

• It pays to be "choosy" when you select the brand of house paint to be used on your home. Whether you employ a painting contractor or not, the price difference between world-famous SWP® House Paint and house paint of ordinary quality will mean less than $5.00 for the average-size, complete house job. This slight difference in cost pays for years of extra wear and is one of the wisest economies you can make.

• In 1953, Sherwin-Williams SWP House Paint was used to paint more homes in America than any other brand. Why? Continuous research in Sherwin-Williams Testing Laboratories and in the field has insured constant improvement and the top-quality performance of SWP. You'll be money ahead when you discover there is a difference in house paints!

PRIVILEGE ABUSED

The franking privilege, which allows members of Congress to use the mails free, serves a number of useful ends. It is, however, frequently abused as was shown recently by the accounts of the Congressman from California who mailed out 4,108,000 copies of a speech he made. That mailing resulted in postal costs of $119,146.50.

Used properly the franking privilege is justified. A congressman should not have to use his own funds to supply constituents with information they request. Legislators have a great deal of correspondence which is conducted in line with their official duties and this too is an expense which should be paid for with public funds.

The free use of the mails, however, imposes on the user the responsibility of being certain that the privilege is not misused, that every piece of mail that bears the frank is an official communication to serve a need or a request. It is not to be used for personal reasons or for conducting political campaigns.

The Congressman who sent out more than 4,000,000 copies of a speech he made was guilty of a flagrant abuse, in spirit if not technically. The publicity given him may well work against him in the election. This could serve as a warning to legislators who take unfair advantage of a privilege which was granted them for the sole purpose of enabling them to serve their constituents better.

RED BELT?

A certain Latin American dictator has a quite simple philosophy of government: This is it:

"For my friends, gold. For the indifferent, whips. For my enemies, lead."

The American State Department is increasingly worried that the left wing government of Guatemala, just below Mexico, is showing interest in the final precept of this philosophy. It reports that an important shipment of arms from Communist East Germany has been received in Guatemala.

The fear is that Guatemala might move against one or another of its Central American neighbors in an effort to establish a belt of communism across the narrow stretch of land connecting North and South America.

SERVICE BENEFITS

Veterans enjoy certain benefits when they want to buy their own homes. Lower downpayments are required of them, their interest rates are lower and repayment terms are longer. A provision of the housing bill now under consideration in Congress would extend these benefits to men who remain in the service.

The provision serves a two-fold purpose. If enacted it would make it possible for professional servicemen to provide their families with decent housing, something which is not always possible in areas near army camps and naval bases. The idea would also eliminate one of the inequities which exist in the treatment accorded to men who remain in the service instead of returning to civilian life.

We need able men who are willing to make careers out of service to the nation. Yet if such men must leave the service to get veterans' benefits it will be more difficult to keep them in uniform.

By making it easier for a professional military man to own his own home we will encourage a great many substantial citizens, who want the responsibilities and the advantages of families and permanent homes, to stay in the service where they are so badly needed.

NEWS, RUSSIAN STYLE

Whatever else may be found in the Russian newspapers, it is not wise to expect that they will print the news. A week after our Supreme Court handed down its decision banning segregation in the schools, Russian readers were kept in ignorance of the fact, as far as newspapers could keep them so. Not a syllable about it was printed.

The reason, of course, is that the court action is a serious blow to the Soviet policy of depicting the United States as a nation of monstrous evil, in which all sorts of racial discrimination are practised. The Kremlin does not like a useful piece of strategy to be defeated by printing the truth.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INTELLECTUALS

In countries where most of the people are illiterate, the scholar stands apart, a person to be respected and honored because he can read. In China, for instance, a Hanlin scholar (equivalent perhaps to an American Ph.D. before that degree showered like a spring rain) was permitted a symbol before his door; among the Jews of the ghettos, the scholar sat in the front seats in the synagogue and the wealthiest men prided themselves upon obtaining such a son-in-law.

In Czarist Russia, the intelligenzia were a class apart, an elite who could read. The person who could read more than one language or who had studied in a foreign university was indeed a superior being. It was not unusual to meet an intelligent Russian who could not only read but speak five or ten languages.

As literacy spreads among the people, mere ability to read is not so great an achievement because everybody can read. The scholar ceases to be a member of an elite group and becomes just a person, wise or foolish, able or incompetent, intellectually courageous or just a jobholder. In Russia, it used not to be unusual to hear a person say, "I am intelligent." Can you imagine any person saying in this country, "I am an intellectual"? Surely, it would convey no precise meaning, because this is a classless society in which every man, woman and child seems to have an opinion on every subject and the adults can vote an opinion conclusively in an election.

On the other hand, the disciplines of learning do give to certain persons either expertness in a particular field or a broad, philosophical view of the forces of nature and the activities of man. Learning is a matter of intellectual discipline. Knowledge run riot is unrelated to wisdom. We have all met the "walking encyclopedia" who knows everything, from how many stars are in the heavens to the baseball scores for a decade, but who cannot apply his knowledge to anything because he possesses no disciplines, no capacity for evaluation, no apparatus for mature thought in narrow or broad fields. The scholar then is distinguished as a person with a disciplined mind.

There was a time when it was assumed that an educated man knew everything; today, such an assumption is impossible. The cosmic philosopher, the mind that can encompass the whole of human knowledge and can develop such a system as Spinoza or Kant did, or even to make a try at it as Bergson did, is unknown in our day in any part of the world. Undoubtedly the most accepted philosophic figure of our era is Karl Marx, whose ideas control the minds of hundreds of millions of human beings; yet he was a man of comparatively small knowledge even for his times and his special theory of dialectical materialism does not stand up in the face of our knowledge either of the social or natural sciences.

This discussion inevitably leads to what, in our country, has been vulgarized into the word, egghead. I do not quite understand what an "egghead" is, but I assume that it is a characterization of a scholar who goes into the public service and acts beyond his capacities. The American penchant for a slang phrase makes an "egghead" a radical, a member of the A.D.A., a professor who is a Fifth Amendment Communist or a fellow-traveler who often becomes such because he is a busybody.

The idea seems to prevail that all scholars are Democrats or Liberals or Communists. This has been encouraged by the contrary notion that all Republicans, all business men, and all anti-Communists are "anti-intellectuals."

Such simplifications are not only ridiculous but mischievous. The trained, disciplined minds of this country cannot be divided that way. If a count were taken, I am sure that as many, if not more, disciplined minds are employed in private industry as in our universities; that more research is being done in the natural sciences in private industry than in our universities; that as many professors are Republicans as Democrats; and that in our universities the anti-Communists will exceed the Communists by 1,000 to 1 a conservative guess, I am sure.

In a word, no political group in America has a monopoly on scholarship. Some do, however, make more noise than others.

That Body of Yours

SURGERY OF THE STOMACH

A considerable number of stomach operations result in a distressing amount of complaints which probably have nothing to do with the original condition but are a result of the operation. Although the loss of a small part or even all of the stomach may seem a small price to avoid the consequences of the return of an ulcer or a fatal cancer, yet a significant number of patients show inadequate nutrition to the point of being incapacitated.

I am quoting Drs. Edwin H. Ellison and Robert M. Zollinger, Columbus, Ohio, in the Journal of the American Medical Association. These physicians state that those who look after patients after stomach operations have long been impressed by the problems they present. These problems are loss of or lessened appetite, smaller size of the stomach, frequent discomfort after meals, a large number of foods to which the patient is sensitive, and diarrhoea. These may result in a significant weight loss or the inability to gain weight and sometimes prevent the patient from being able to earn a living or take his place in the community.

They studied a group of patients from one to six years after a stomach operation. The youngest patient reported on was 20 years old and the oldest was 75; the average was 52 years. There were 162 men and 41 women and of the total number there were 163 cases of duodenal ulcer.

Records of weight gain or loss were used as an index for the state of nutrition. Over one-half, or 109 of 203 patients, failed to regain their previous wieght and, furthermore, a total of only 16 reached their maximum weight that they had before operation.

Of importance is the fact that the weight following operation was found to be below the minimal standards for sex, age, and height in 127 of the total cases and in one of every four patients the weight loss was considered extreme.

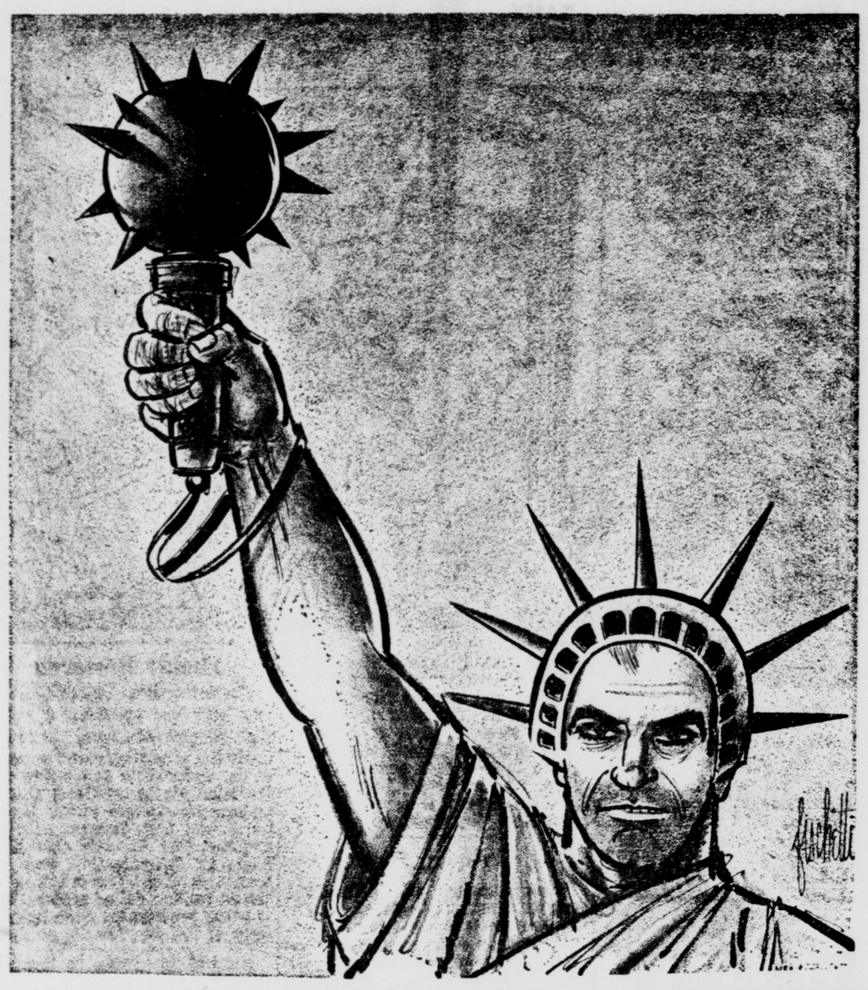

In summing up, these physicians found that the patient's weight after operation had a definite relationship to his weight before in that those who were always underweight did not put on any weight after operation in any single case. Those who had an ideal weight before operation had a much better chance to regain that ideal weight after operation. The type of operation the surgeon selects should be so decided with the weight of the patient in mind. Some types of surgical procedures on the stomach do not seem to cause as many after-effects as others and must be carefully chosen especially in cases who are underweight before operation.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The seven suffering senators, dog-tired and punch drunk from their weeks of Army-McCarthy hearings, got themselves completely balled up on the question of the 130 Communists supposed to be working in U. S. defense plants.

This was Senator McCarthy's day and dish. He all but won his case when Counsel Roy Cohn got the committee off the Private Schine affair and led them down the blind alley of the defense plant investigation.

Incidentally, this excursion exposed the abysmal ignorance of all the senators on what the Department of Defense war plant security program is, or how it works.

This industrial security program has been in operation since before World War 2.

In active charge of the program today is Robert Applegate, an ex-Hoosier with some 20 years' experience as an industrialist with Graybar Electric, Wilshire Oil and other companies in California. He came to Washington in 1946 and has headed up plant security in its present concept since 1949.

The Department of Defense security headquarters is small. It has no investigative staff of its own. Instead, it works to coordinate the security programs of the Department of the Army, Navy and Air Force. They work through the service intelligence agencies. FBI reports on Communists in defense plants are turned over to them.

Under present law, the U. S. government has no right to tell any employer to discharge any employe working on an unclassified—nonsecret—defense contract. Similarly, the FBI has no authority to tell any employer whom to fire.

The FBI can't even give to private employers the names or any information about any workmen who may be Communists or subversives. FBI reports go only to other government agencies.

On classified contracts—which make up most of the defense production — the government does have the right to investigate the security of every individual who has access to secret material. But if employes are found who are security risks, the government is limited to telling the employer that these potentially subversive characters can not work on defense contracts.

It is then up to the employer whether he fires this individual or merely transfers him to other work which is not classified.

To handle these security risk cases, Department of Defense has set up three Industrial Personnel Security Boards. They operate out of San Francisco, Chicago and New York. Each three-man board has one representative of army, navy and air force. They are responsible to the three service secretaries, collectively.

These security boards have hearings and screening divisions. Any plant worker on whom bad information is received can appeal the charge that he is a security risk and get his side of the story told. Further action is then up to the employer, except that the government can say that security risks cannot work on classified contracts.

General Electric has taken the lead in announcing a policy that it will discharge any employe who takes refuge behind the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions on Communist affiliations. Senator McCarthy was right in saying that under existing law, this is the only way in which such cases can be exposed and fired outright.

What did not come out in the Army-McCarthy hearings, however, is that there is now before Congress a bill which would correct this situation. This legislation was prepared by the Departments of Justice, Labor and Defense.

It was then approved by National Security Council and President Eisenhower personally. It was introduced by Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan on May 10.

This bill, called the "Defense Facilities Protection Act of 1954," has two main objectives. It would give the government power to remove subversives from all defense plants to prevent possible espionage or sabotage.

And it would deny union bargaining rights to any labor organizations which are Communist dominated.

This Ferguson bill and three other companion measures of the senator's own drafting are now before the Senate Judiciary Committee. It is also considering similar measures proposed by Senators John M. Butler (R., Md.) and Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.).

As an effective means of curbing subversives in defense plants, fast action on any of these bills or a combination of them would obviously do far more permanent good than an endless series of noisy hearings by the McCarthy committee. Passage of this much-needed legislation would not, however, make as many headlines.

WAS BUILT BY PARISHIONERS WHO DONATED FROM THEIR HOMES
EVERY ARTICLE OF FURNITURE THEY POSSESSED — EVEN THEIR POTS AND PANS

The Church of San Salvador in Sevilla, Spain, was built from 1671 to 1712 with the proceeds of the sale of all the gold and jewels donated by the ladies of the quarter. More than that, the women emptied their houses of all the furniture, mirrors, tables, beds, chairs, stools, pots and pans, table cloths, wardrobes, etc. Before the church was finished there was not a house in the quarter of San Salvador which had not been completely emptied of its furnishings for the benefit of the Church.

Today in Washington

International Interest in McCarthy Wrangle Based on Senator's Views on Cooperation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 11—A natural question asked of any one returning from abroad is: What do Europeans think about the McCarthy controversy?"

It actually is far more a topic of conversation among Americans living in Europe than it is, for instance, among the citizens of Switzerland or France or Britain. Americans there divide about as they do in this country. Most Europeans have exhibited relatively little concern about the issue of internal communism, even though Communists have been discovered in high places in the governments of some of our allies. Lately there have been some manifestations of a growing awareness of the menace.

But, basically, whatever interest there is in the McCarthy episode stems from a belief that the Wisconsin senator is unfriendly to international cooperation. Many of the press dispatches and editorials appearing in European newspapers regularly refer to Senator McCarthy as a "right-wing isolationist." To Europeans, of course an "isolationist" is one who doesn't want to send American troops to Europe or who doesn't want to appropriate money for economic or military aid abroad. In Europe, they are far more interested in whether an American congressman is sympathetic to them on economic cooperation than on what he does on domestic issues within the United States.

In order to set the record straight on this point—which is susceptible of producing misunderstandings about the attitude of the American Congress toward Europe — this correspondent examined today the roll-call votes of Senator McCarthy on international questions since he entered the Senate in 1947. There is no evidence to justify the characterization of the Wisconsin senator as an "isolationist." In fact, the evidence—which may be a surprise to some readers—is just the other way. Here is the record of how Senator McCarthy voted on significant roll calls:

1947—Voted for Greek-Turkish aid bill and against the Johnson amendment to strike from the measure the authorizations for military aid. Voted for the Senate authorization of $350 millions for foreign relief. Voted for ratification of the peace treaty with Italy.

1948—Voted for the European Recovery Bill. Was recorded as in favor of the Vandenberg foreign-policy resolution reaffirming faith in the United Nations and advocating voluntary limitation on the use of the veto in the Security Council and more effective efforts to limit armaments and to provide a world police force. Voted for the Ferguson amendment to admit 200,000 instead of 150,000 displaced persons. Vote for revival of Selective Service Law.

1949—Voted against the Taft-Russell amendment which would have cut by ten per cent the authorization for spending by the ECA (Economic Cooperation Administration). Voted for the North Atlantic security treaty and against the Taft-Wherry-Watkins reservation declaring that the same treaty was no commitment to arm western Europe. Voted against even more sweeping reservations proposed by Senator Watkins, Republican, of Utah. Voted for foreign military aid bill. Voted against shelving the revision of the Displaced Persons Act until 1950.

1950—Voted for a liberalized rather than a tightened law on the admission of displaced persons. Voted for $100 million loan to Spain.

1951—Voted for the resolution approving participation of U. S. land forces in the international army being formed in western Europe and for the resolution requiring congressional approval for dispatch of additional troops. Offered own amendment—adopted 48 to 41—suggesting revision of existing plans for defense of Europe to permit utilization of the military resources of Spain and western Germany. Voted for bill to make two-million-ton wheat purchase by India as a loan. Voted against motions to cut U. S. armed forces fund to $55 billions.

1952—Voted for Senate foreign aid authorization bill of $6.7 billions.

1953 — Voted for McClellan amendment to use foreign aid to cut farm surpluses and against Goldwater amendment pressuring France to grant full self-government to states of Indo-China. Voted for legislation to admit 214,000 aliens during next three years, most of them refugees from behind Iron Curtain.

Senator McCarthy in his voting record went along with various Democrats and Republicans on several amendments to cut down particular appropriations in foreign-aid bills but, when beaten, he always voted on the roll call for final passage for the sums desired by the majority of the Senate. He is not recorded as voting against any final bill for foreign aid.

There have been no important record votes on international questions in the present session. The Wisconsin senator has made several speeches about embargoing all trade with Red China—an issue which is not confined to any party or political faction in the Senate.

If, however, voting records as a whole are to be classified as "isolationist" or "cooperationist," Senator McCarthy cannot justly be characterized either by Europeans or Americans as in the "isolationist" category.

Pays Visit to Ulster

Former Senator Robert Reynolds of Ashville, North Carolina, paid a visit to Ulster county on Tuesday when he and a party stopped at the Oak Grove Motel on Route 9W at Lake Katrine where they occupied a suit of several rooms. The following day they left for Hyde Park where the senator visited the Roosevelt estate. Senator Reynolds remarked the Roosevelt estate seemed "home" to him, since he was a very frequent visitor during the time Franklin D. Roosevelt was president. After a visit to the Roosevelt estate the party planned to visit the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 9—I don't suppose it will do a particle of good but I think I should spread the word that these new poured-concrete apartment-buildings which are sprouting up in New York, with steel rods planted in the concrete columns, are a turkey. This may have been, like prohibition, an experiment noble in purpose. But a little practical experience has shown that the columns are sound conductors, perhaps because of the steel rods, although an engineer might want to give me an argument on that. Moreover, this new style of architecture has been developed in a cheese-paring spirit, so economical that the interior walls and even the party walls between apartments are only three or four inches thick and unable to exclude ordinary household sounds from the house next door. They saved "room" at the sacrifice of privacy, peace and sanity.

Thousands and thousands of cells have been slapped together in New York in the last few years and the high-toned lobbies and the post-card balconies cannot balance the fact that life is plain hell indoors, even though the denizens try earnestly to be mutually considerate and quiet. Work the plumbing and there is a roar like the bellow of a greasy, dark-green Minnesota cyclone as the pressure goes into action, followed by a booming thump as some valve closes down. The bath faucets get a heavy play at certain hours of the morning and night and during those periods there is a more or less constant uproar of another timbre no less appalling.

When the doorman, in his tasty uniform, rings the house-phone to say that Mr. and Mrs. Cronin are calling, so thin are the walls that the inmates of half-a-dozen apartments within earshot rush to their house-phones thinking it is theirs that is ringing. These defects are incurable with the exception of the noise of the pressure in the pipes, which might be moderated by good engineers. The thinness of the walls is permanent and incurable and the comfort of privacy as to sound has been absolutely forfeited to a greedy economy in cubic content.

Walls can be just so thin and no thinner if you intend to keep the ordinary sounds of one normal household out of another. Shave them too thin and you hear the girl next door clicking around on her high heels, as she has a perfect right to click, or, with the headboard of your bed up against the living-room wall of your neighbor, you get the boom of male voices and the treble of the feminine chatter at times when you are praying to God to let you sleep and the neighbor is enjoying an ordinary conversational hour with guests. Not a wild party. Just a polite visit.

The balconies are nice for hot summer evenings, especially if they are so spotted as to give a glimpse of the river or the sunset or the spires of a fascinating city. It is a fact, however, though no fault of the architects or the landlords, that some public utilities and a few other offenders send up clouds of horrible smoke which contain a grit which settles down on the balconies and dirties the furniture which, in turn, soils your summer clothing. But that is no fault of the balconies as such. It is just a fact of life in New York as of this writing which tends to discount the theoretical delight of such a ledge high about the streets.

In buildings of the "low-income" class where there are likely to be many children and go-as-you-please discipline, there will be additional difficulties inevitably. In New York, someone is always trying to sleep, whatever the hour of the day, because so much of the population works nights. Not only actors and musicians but waiters, all kinds of radio people, telephone people, newspaper people, cops, robbers and night-side elevator men and employes of the transportation system work night shifts. They have to catch their sleep if any during the day. The late La Guardia was guilty of one act of humane decency when he outlawed the hurdy-gurdies, which though a sentimental item were an instrument of torture to many. But what hope is there for the wretched night-side in these boxes with radios going on all sides and the routine traffic of housekeeping magnified by the very structure itself?

One test this new kind of apartment has not yet met. That is the accidental or suicidal explosion of the gas filled room. In buildings of the conventional steel skeleton, of course, a number of those frightful blasts have been withstood although, of course, with very bad local effects. Walls have been blown through and some neighbors have been killed or made groggy for a time. But there is no experience thus far to indicate whether a similar let-go wouldn't just cut the legs from

The franking privilege, which allows members of Congress to use the mails free, serves a number of useful ends. It is, however, frequently abused as was shown recently by the accounts of the Congressman from California who mailed out 4,108,000 copies of a speech he made. That mailing resulted in postal costs of $119,146.50.

Used properly the franking privilege is justified. A congressman should not have to use his own funds to supply constituents with information they request. Legislators have a great deal of correspondence which is conducted in line with their official duties and this too is an expense which should be paid for with public funds.

The free use of the mails, however, imposes on the user the responsibility of being certain that the privilege is not misused, that every piece of mail that bears the frank is an official communication to serve a need or a request. It is not to be used for personal reasons or for conducting political campaigns.

The Congressman who sent out more than 4,000,000 copies of a speech he made was guilty of a flagrant abuse, in spirit if not technically. The publicity given him may well work against him in the election. This could serve as a warning to legislators who take unfair advantage of a privilege which was granted them for the sole purpose of enabling them to serve their constituents better.

RED BELT?

A certain Latin American dictator has a quite simple philosophy of government: This is it:

"For my friends, gold. For the indifferent, whips. For my enemies, lead."

The American State Department is increasingly worried that the left wing government of Guatemala, just below Mexico, is showing interest in the final precept of this philosophy. It reports that an important shipment of arms from Communist East Germany has been received in Guatemala.

The fear is that Guatemala might move against one or another of its Central American neighbors in an effort to establish a belt of communism across the narrow stretch of land connecting North and South America.

SERVICE BENEFITS

Veterans enjoy certain benefits when they want to buy their own homes. Lower down-payments are required of them, their interest rates are lower and repayment terms are longer. A provision of the housing bill now under consideration in Congress would extend these benefits to men who remain in the service.

The provision serves a two-fold purpose. If enacted it would make it possible for professional servicemen to provide their families with decent housing, something which is not always possible in areas near army camps and naval bases. The idea would also eliminate one of the inequities which exist in the treatment accorded to men who remain in the service instead of returning to civilian life.

We need able men who are willing to make careers out of service to the nation. Yet if such men must leave the service to get veterans' benefits it will be more difficult to keep them in uniform.

By making it easier for a professional military man to own his own home we will encourage a great many substantial citizens, who want the responsibilities and the advantages of families and permanent homes, to stay in the service where they are so badly needed.

NEWS, RUSSIAN STYLE

Whatever else may be found in the Russian newspapers, it is not wise to expect that they will print the news. A week after our Supreme Court handed down its decision banning segregation in the schools, Russian readers were kept in ignorance of the fact, as far as newspapers could keep them so. Not a syllable about it was printed.

The reason, of course, is that the court action is a serious blow to the Soviet policy of depicting the United States as a nation of monstrous evil, in which all sorts of racial discrimination are practised. The Kremlin does not like a useful piece of strategy to be defeated by printing the truth.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INTELLECTUALS

In countries where most of the people are illiterate, the scholar stands apart, a person to be respected and honored because he can read. In China, for instance, a Hanlin scholar (equivalent perhaps to an American Ph.D. before that degree showered like a spring rain) was permitted a symbol before his door; among the Jews of the ghettos, the scholar sat in the front seats in the synagogue and the wealthiest men prided themselves upon obtaining such a son-in-law.

In Czarist Russia, the intelligenzia were a class apart, an elite who could read. The person who could read more than one language or who had studied in a foreign university was indeed a superior being. It was not unusual to meet an intelligent Russian who could not only read but speak five or ten languages.

As literacy spreads among the people, mere ability to read is not so great an achievement because everybody can read. The scholar ceases to be a member of an elite group and becomes just a person, wise or foolish, able or incompetent, intellectually courageous or just a jobholder. In Russia, it used not to be unusual to hear a person say, "I am intelligent." Can you imagine any person saying in this country, "I am an intellectual"? Surely, it would convey no precise meaning, because this is a classless society in which every man, woman and child seems to have an opinion on every subject and the adults can vote an opinion conclusively in an election.

On the other hand, the disciplines of learning do give to certain persons either expertness in a particular field or a broad, philosophical view of the forces of nature and the activities of man. Learning is a matter of intellectual discipline. Knowledge run riot is unrelated to wisdom. We have all met the "walking encyclopedia" who knows everything, from how many stars are in the heavens to the baseball scores for a decade, but who cannot apply his knowledge to anything because he possesses no disciplines, no capacity for evaluation, no apparatus for mature thought in narrow or broad fields. The scholar then is distinguished as a person with a disciplined mind.

There was a time when it was assumed that an educated man knew everything; today, such an assumption is impossible. The cosmic philosopher, the mind that can encompass the whole of human knowledge and can develop such a system as Spinoza or Kant did, or even to make a try at it as Bergson did, is unknown in our day in any part of the world. Undoubtedly the most accepted philosophic figure of our era is Karl Marx, whose ideas control the minds of hundreds of millions of human beings; yet he was a man of comparatively small knowledge even for his times and his special theory of dialectical materialism does not stand up in the face of our knowledge either of the social or natural sciences.

This discussion inevitably leads to what, in our country, has been vulgarized into the word, egghead. I do not quite understand what an "egghead" is, but I assume that it is a characterization of a scholar who goes into the public service and acts beyond his capacities. The American penchant for a slang phrase makes an "egghead" a radical, a member of the A.D.A., a professor who is a Fifth Amendment Communist or a fellow-traveler who often becomes such because he is a busybody.

The idea seems to prevail that all scholars are Democrats or Liberals or Communists. This has been encouraged by the contrary notion that all Republicans, all business men, and all anti-Communists are "anti-intellectuals."

Such simplifications are not only ridiculous but mischievous. The trained, disciplined minds of this country cannot be divided that way. If a count were taken, I am sure that as many, if not more, disciplined minds are employed in private industry as in our universities; that more research is being done in the natural sciences in private industry than in our universities; that as many professors are Republicans as Democrats; and that in our universities the anti-Communists will exceed the Communists by 1,000 to 1 a conservative guess, I am sure.

In a word, no political group in America has a monopoly on scholarship. Some do, however, make more noise than others.

That Body of Yours

SURGERY OF THE STOMACH

A considerable number of stomach operations result in a distressing amount of complaints which probably have nothing to do with the original condition but are a result of the operation. Although the loss of a small part or even all of the stomach may seem a small price to avoid the consequences of the return of an ulcer or a fatal cancer, yet a significant number of patients show inadequate nutrition to the point of being incapacitated.

I am quoting Drs. Edwin H. Ellison and Robert M. Zollinger, Columbus, Ohio, in the Journal of the American Medical Association. These physicians state that those who look after patients after stomach operations have long been impressed by the problems they present. These problems are loss of or lessened appetite, smaller size of the stomach, frequent discomfort after meals, a large number of foods to which the patient is sensitive, and diarrhoea. These may result in a significant weight loss or the inability to gain weight and sometimes prevent the patient from being able to earn a living or take his place in the community.

They studied a group of patients from one to six years after a stomach operation. The youngest patient reported on was 20 years old and the oldest was 75; the average was 52 years. There were 162 men and 41 women and of the total number there were 163 cases of duodenal ulcer.

Records of weight gain or loss were used as an index for the state of nutrition. Over one-half, or 109 of 203 patients, failed to regain their previous wieght and, furthermore, a total of only 16 reached their maximum weight that they had before operation.

Of importance is the fact that the weight following operation was found to be below the minimal standards for sex, age, and height in 127 of the total cases and in one of every four patients the weight loss was considered extreme.

In summing up, these physicians found that the patient's weight after operation had a definite relationship to his weight before in that those who were always underweight did not put on any weight after operation in any single case. Those who had an ideal weight before operation had a much better chance to regain that ideal weight after operation. The type of operation the surgeon selects should be so decided with the weight of the patient in mind. Some types of surgical procedures on the stomach do not seem to cause as many after-effects as others and must be carefully chosen especially in cases who are underweight before operation.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The seven suffering senators, dog-tired and punch drunk from their weeks of Army-McCarthy hearings, got themselves completely balled up on the question of the 130 Communists supposed to be working in U. S. defense plants.

This was Senator McCarthy's day and dish. He all but won his case when Counsel Roy Cohn got the committee off the Private Schine affair and led them down the blind alley of the defense plant investigation.

Incidentally, this excursion exposed the abysmal ignorance of all the senators on what the Department of Defense war plant security program is, or how it works.

This industrial security program has been in operation since before World War 2.

In active charge of the program today is Robert Applegate, an ex-Hoosier with some 20 years' experience as an industrialist with Graybar Electric, Wilshire Oil and other companies in California. He came to Washington in 1946 and has headed up plant security in its present concept since 1949.

The Department of Defense security headquarters is small. It has no investigative staff of its own. Instead, it works to coordinate the security programs of the Department of the Army, Navy and Air Force. They work through the service intelligence agencies. FBI reports on Communists in defense plants are turned over to them.

Under present law, the U. S. government has no right to tell any employer to discharge any employe working on an unclassified—nonsecret—defense contract. Similarly, the FBI has no authority to tell any employer whom to fire.

The FBI can't even give to private employers the names or any information about any workmen who may be Communists or subversives. FBI reports go only to other government agencies.

On classified contracts—which make up most of the defense production — the government does have the right to investigate the security of every individual who has access to secret material. But if employes are found who are security risks, the government is limited to telling the employer that these potentially subversive characters can not work on defense contracts.

It is then up to the employer whether he fires this individual or merely transfers him to other work which is not classified.

To handle these security risk cases, Department of Defense has set up three Industrial Personnel Security Boards. They operate out of San Francisco, Chicago and New York. Each three-man board has one representative of army, navy and air force. They are responsible to the three service secretaries, collectively.

These security boards have hearings and screening divisions. Any plant worker on whom bad information is received can appeal the charge that he is a security risk and get his side of the story told. Further action is then up to the employer, except that the government can say that security risks cannot work on classified contracts.

General Electric has taken the lead in announcing a policy that it will discharge any employe who takes refuge behind the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions on Communist affiliations. Senator McCarthy was right in saying that under existing law, this is the only way in which such cases can be exposed and fired outright.

What did not come out in the Army-McCarthy hearings, however, is that there is now before Congress a bill which would correct this situation. This legislation was prepared by the Departments of Justice, Labor and Defense.

It was then approved by National Security Council and President Eisenhower personally. It was introduced by Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan on May 10.

This bill, called the "Defense Facilities Protection Act of 1954," has two main objectives. It would give the government power to remove subversives from all defense plants to prevent possible espionage or sabotage.

And it would deny union bargaining rights to any labor organizations which are Communist dominated.

This Ferguson bill and three other companion measures of the senator's own drafting are now before the Senate Judiciary Committee. It is also considering similar measures proposed by Senators John M. Butler (R., Md.) and Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.).

As an effective means of curbing subversives in defense plants, fast action on any of these bills or a combination of them would obviously do far more permanent good than an endless series of noisy hearings by the McCarthy committee. Passage of this much-needed legislation would not, however, make as many headlines.

THE CHURCH OF SAN SALVADOR in Sevilla, Spain
WAS BUILT BY PARISHIONERS WHO DONATED FROM THEIR HOMES
EVERY ARTICLE OF FURNITURE THEY POSSESSED — EVEN THEIR POTS AND PANS

The Church of San Salvador in Sevilla, Spain, was built from 1671 to 1712 with the proceeds of the sale of all the gold and jewels donated by the ladies of the quarter. More than that, the women emptied their houses of all the furniture, mirrors, tables, beds, chairs, stools, pots and pans, table cloths, wardrobes, etc. Before the church was finished there was not a house in the quarter of San Salvador which had not been completely emptied of its furnishings for the benefit of the Church.

Today in Washington

International Interest in McCarthy Wrangle Based on Senator's Views on Cooperation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 11—A natural question asked of any one returning from abroad is: What do Europeans think about the McCarthy controversy?"

It actually is far more a topic of conversation among Americans living in Europe than it is, for instance, among the citizens of Switzerland or France or Britain. Americans there divide about as they do in this country. Most Europeans have exhibited relatively little concern about the issue of internal communism, even though Communists have been discovered in high places in the governments of some of our allies. Lately there have been some manifestations of a growing awareness of the menace.

But, basically, whatever interest there is in the McCarthy episode stems from a belief that the Wisconsin senator is unfriendly to international cooperation. Many of the press dispatches and editorials appearing in European newspapers regularly refer to Senator McCarthy as a "right-wing isolationist." To Europeans, of course an "isolationist" is one who doesn't want to send American troops to Europe or who doesn't want to appropriate money for economic or military aid abroad. In Europe, they are far more interested in whether an American congressman is sympathetic to them on economic cooperation than on what he does on domestic issues within the United States.

In order to set the record straight on this point—which is susceptible of producing misunderstandings about the attitude of the American Congress toward Europe — this correspondent examined today the roll-call votes of Senator McCarthy on international questions since he entered the Senate in 1947. There is no evidence to justify the characterization of the Wisconsin senator as an "isolationist." In fact, the evidence—which may be a surprise to some readers—is just the other way. Here is the record of how Senator McCarthy voted on significant roll calls:

1947—Voted for Greek-Turkish aid bill and against the Johnson amendment to strike from the measure the authorizations for military aid. Voted for the Senate authorization of $350 millions for foreign relief. Voted for ratification of the peace treaty with Italy.

1948—Voted for the European Recovery Bill. Was recorded as in favor of the Vandenberg foreign-policy resolution reaffirming faith in the United Nations and advocating voluntary limitation on the use of the veto in the Security Council and more effective efforts to limit armaments and to provide a world police force.. Voted for the Ferguson amendment to admit 200,000 instead of 150,000 displaced persons. Vote for revival of Selective Service Law.

1949—Voted against the Taft-Russell amendment which would have cut by ten per cent the authorization for spending by the ECA (Economic Cooperation Administration). Voted for the North Atlantic security treaty and against the Taft-Wherry-Watkins reservation declaring that the same treaty was no commitment to arm western Europe. Voted against even more sweeping reservations proposed by Senator Watkins, Republican, of Utah. Voted for foreign military aid bill. Voted against shelving the revision of the Displaced Persons Act until 1950.

1950—Voted for a liberalized rather than a tightened law on the admission of displaced persons. Voted for $100 million loan to Spain.

1951—Voted for the resolution approving participation of U. S. land forces in the international army being formed in western Europe and for the resolution requiring congressional approval for dispatch of additional troops. Offered own amendment—adopted 48 to 41—suggesting revision of existing plans for defense of Europe to permit utilization of the military resources of Spain and western Germany. Voted for bill to make two-million-ton wheat purchase by India as a loan. Voted against motions to cut U. S. armed forces fund to $55 billions.

1952—Voted for Senate foreign aid authorization bill of $6.7 billions.

1953 — Voted for McClellan amendment to use foreign aid to cut farm surpluses and against Goldwater amendment pressuring France to grant full self-government to states of Indo-China. Voted for legislation to admit 214,000 aliens during next three years, most of them refugees from behind Iron Curtain.

Senator McCarthy in his voting record went along with various Democrats and Republicans on several amendments to cut down particular appropriations in foreign-aid bills but, when beaten, he always voted on the roll call for final passage for the sums desired by the majority of the Senate. He is not recorded as voting against any final bill for foreign aid.

There have been no important record votes on international questions in the present session. The Wisconsin senator has made several speeches about embargoing all trade with Red China—an issue which is not confined to any party or political faction in the Senate.

If, however, voting records as a whole are to be classified as "isolationist" or "cooperationist," Senator McCarthy cannot justly be characterized either by Europeans or Americans as in the "isolationist" category.

Pays Visit to Ulster

Former Senator Robert Reynolds of Ashville, North Carolina, paid a visit to Ulster county on Tuesday when he and a party stopped at the Oak Grove Motel on Route 9W at Lake Katrine where they occupied a suit of several rooms. The following day they left for Hyde Park where the senator visited the Roosevelt estate. Senator Reynolds remarked the Roosevelt estate seemed "home" to him, since he was a very frequent visitor during the time Franklin D. Roosevelt was president. After a visit to the Roosevelt estate the party planned to visit the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 9—I don't suppose it will do a particle of good but I think I should spread the word that these new poured-concrete apartment-buildings which are sprouting up in New York, with steel rods planted in the concrete columns, are a turkey. This may have been, like prohibition, an experiment noble in purpose. But a little practical experience has shown that the columns are sound conductors, perhaps because of the steel rods, although an engineer might want to give me an argument on that. Moreover, this new style of architecture has been developed in a cheese-paring spirit, so economical that the interior walls and even the party walls between apartments are only three or four inches thick and unable to exclude ordinary household sounds from the house next door. They saved "room" at the sacrifice of privacy, peace and sanity.

Thousands and thousands of cells have been slapped together in New York in the last few years and the high-toned lobbies and the post-card balconies cannot balance the fact that life is plain hell indoors, even though the denizens try earnestly to be mutually considerate and quiet. Work the plumbing and there is a roar like the bellow of a greasy, dark-green Minnesota cyclone as the pressure goes into action, followed by a booming thump as some valve closes down. The bath faucets get a heavy play at certain hours of the morning and night and during those periods there is a more or less constant uproar of another timbre no less appalling.

When the doorman, in his tasty uniform, rings the house-phone to say that Mr. and Mrs. Cronin are calling, so thin are the walls that the inmates of half-a-dozen apartments within earshot rush to their house-phones thinking it is theirs that is ringing. These defects are incurable with the exception of the noise of the pressure in the pipes, which might be moderated by good engineers. The thinness of the walls is permanent and incurable and the comfort of privacy as to sound has been absolutely forfeited to a greedy economy in cubic content.

Walls can be just so thin and no thinner if you intend to keep the ordinary sounds of one normal household out of another. Shave them too thin and you hear the girl next door clicking around on her high heels, as she has a perfect right to click, or, with the headboard of your bed up against the living-room wall of your neighbor, you get the boom of male voices and the treble of the feminine chatter at times when you are praying to God to let you sleep and the neighbor is enjoying an ordinary conversational hour with guests. Not a wild party. Just a polite visit.

The balconies are nice for hot summer evenings, especially if they are so spotted as to give a glimpse of the river or the sunset or the spires of a fascinating city. It is a fact, however, though no fault of the architects or the landlords, that some public utilities and a few other offenders send up clouds of horrible smoke which contain a grit which settles down on the balconies and dirties the furniture which, in turn, soils your summer clothing. But that is no fault of the balconies as such. It is just a fact of life in New York as of this writing which tends to discount the theoretical delight of such a ledge high about the streets.

In buildings of the "low-income" class where there are likely to be many children and go-as-you-please discipline, there will be additional difficulties inevitably. In New York, someone is always trying to sleep, whatever the hour of the day, because so much of the population works nights. Not only actors and musicians but waiters, all kinds of radio people, telephone people, newspaper people, cops, robbers and night-side elevator men and employes of the transportation system work night shifts. They have to catch their sleep if any during the day. The late La Guardia was guilty of one act of humane decency when he outlawed the hurdy-gurdies, which though a sentimental item were an instrument of torture to many. But what hope is there for the wretched night-side in these boxes with radios going on all sides and the routine traffic of housekeeping magnified by the very structure itself?

One test this new kind of apartment has not yet met. That is the accidental or suicidal explosion of the gas filled room. In buildings of the conventional steel skeleton, of course, a number of those frightful blasts have been withstood although, of course, with very bad local effects. Walls have been blown through and some neighbors have been killed or made groggy for a time. But there is no experience thus far to indicate whether a similar let-go wouldn't just cut the legs from

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON SPEAKS TO EMPLOYERS

Babson Park, Mass., June 11—Some of my young friends feel that a recent pessimistic column of mine will handicap them in getting a good position. Hence, they wish me to tell the optimistic side of the story. There is much newspaper talk about the delinquency of juveniles, the carelessness of youth, and the lowering of school and college standards.

Of course, the destruction of school or any property should be given the severest criticism; but some feel these crimes are only a natural reaction from the moral letdown that always has accompanied periods of great wars. So much has been written by me regarding the pessimistic side of the "modern youth" problem that I really should pass along some optimistic words, especially now at graduation time.

Hours and Wages

Stores are having some trouble from stealing by employes; but this has been due partly to the store's carelessness. When it comes to the industry, initiative and loyalty of the honest ones, I must admit that the high-school graduates today may possess some good traits to a greater extent than any previous generation. Modern youth may wish to work fewer hours; but with telephones, calculating machines and dictaphones, they may accomplish more in a 40-hour week than I did when working 50 hours per week. They claim five times as much!

Now as to wages: On the wall of a store adjoining my Wellesley office is a tin sign dated 1904 reading:

"The Boston Herald
Price One Cent"

One of the leading newspapers of New England, The Boston Herald now sells for five cents. We employers are disturbed at the wages which "modern youth" ask; but are these wages more than five times what we paid high-school graduates 50 years ago?

What Is Paleontology?

Paleontology is the science of ancient life. Recently, Doctor Barnum Brown, curator emeritus of the American Museum of Natural History, a leading paleontologist, told me that the facts prove conclusively every normal generation is abler than its predecessor. The new generation may do things which we oldsters do not like; but it has other qualities which more than offset our objections. This improvement, he claims, is due to many factors—one of which is the better diet which each generation has—more protein, more fruits and vegetables, and especially a greater variety of food.

When I attended high school, I despised such subjects as Latin, Greek and certain higher mathematics. When I would tell the teacher that I would never use these subjects, the teacher would reply, "These are taught to help you develop your brain." Yet, today, psychologists tell me that driving automobiles through traffic does far more to develop the brains of modern youth than did any of those high-school subjects which were taught us. In fact, it may be that automobiles are today doing more to sharpen high-school brains than many of the textbooks which I studied.

Automobiles as Teachers

I am scared stiff when riding with one of my grandchildren. The way he drives "in and out" of traffic astonishes me. Yet, he never has an accident. The automobile may make the present generation superior to the pre-auto generation to which I belonged. Furthermore, instead of urging youth to drive slower we should perhaps be content to urge "careful driving." The best brains are said to be developed by alert, careful driving.

Therefore, I should say that 1954 graduates—who avoid liquor and excessive smoking—may be the best we have ever had an opportunity to hire. Perhaps, we employers may well place them in the jobs of us oldsters who cannot think as fast or visualize as quickly as we once could. In fact, one of the best tests which an employment manager can use on applicants may be to ask for the applicant's auto record. It may tell more than high-school marks! I do not know.

BABSON on BUSINESS

BABSON SPEAKS TO EMPLOYERS

Babson Park, Mass., June 11—Some of my young friends feel that a recent pessimistic column of mine will handicap them in getting a good position. Hence, they wish me to tell the optimistic side of the story. There is much newspaper talk about the delinquency of juveniles, the carelessness of youth, and the lowering of school and college standards.

Of course, the destruction of school or any property should be given the severest criticism; but some feel these crimes are only a natural reaction from the moral letdown that always has accompanied periods of great wars. So much has been written by me regarding the pessimistic side of the "modern youth" problem that I really should pass along some optimistic words, especially now at graduation time.

Hours and Wages

Stores are having some trouble from stealing by employes; but this has been due partly to the store's carelessness. When it comes to the industry, initiative and loyalty of the honest ones, I must admit that the high-school graduates today may possess some good traits to a greater extent than any previous generation. Modern youth may wish to work fewer hours; but with telephones, calculating machines and dictaphones, they may accomplish more in a 40-hour week than I did when working 50 hours per week. They claim five times as much!

Now as to wages: On the wall of a store adjoining my Wellesley office is a tin sign dated 1904 reading:

"The Boston Herald
Price One Cent"

One of the leading newspapers of New England, The Boston Herald now sells for five cents. We employers are disturbed at the wages which "modern youth" ask; but are these wages more than five times what we paid high-school graduates 50 years ago?

What Is Paleontology?

Paleontology is the science of ancient life. Recently, Doctor Barnum Brown, curator emeritus of the American Museum of Natural History, a leading paleontologist, told me that the facts prove conclusively every normal generation is abler than its predecessor. The new generation may do things which we oldsters do not like; but it has other qualities which more than offset our objections. This improvement, he claims, is due to many factors—one of which is the better diet which each generation has—more protein, more fruits and vegetables, and especially a greater variety of food.

When I attended high school, I despised such subjects as Latin, Greek and certain higher mathematics. When I would tell the teacher that I would never use these subjects, the teacher would reply, "These are taught to help you develop your brain." Yet, today, psychologists tell me that driving automobiles through traffic does far more to develop the brains of modern youth than did any of those high-school subjects which were taught us. In fact, it may be that automobiles are today doing more to sharpen high-school brains than many of the textbooks which I studied.

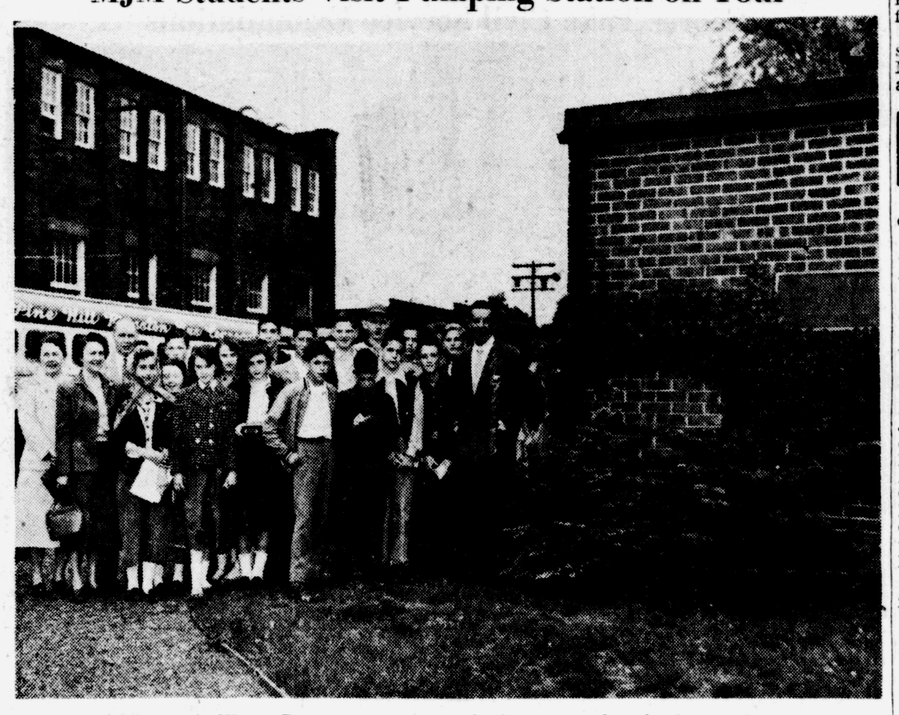

Automobiles as Teachers

I am scared stiff when riding with one of my grandchildren. The way he drives "in and out" of traffic astonishes me. Yet, he never has an accident. The automobile may make the present generation superior to the pre-auto generation to which I belonged. Furthermore, instead of urging youth to drive slower we should perhaps be content to urge "careful driving." The best brains are said to be developed by alert, careful driving.

Therefore, I should say that 1954 graduates—who avoid liquor and excessive smoking—may be the best we have ever had an opportunity to hire. Perhaps, we employers may well place them in the jobs of us oldsters who cannot think as fast or visualize as quickly as we once could. In fact, one of the best tests which an employment manager can use on applicants may be to ask for the applicant's auto record. It may tell more than high-school marks! I do not know.

When today's hand was played, South counted only his losers. He saw that he could discard both of his diamonds on dummy's hearts, and he assumed that he would have no club losers in view of dummy's shortness.

Without doing any more counting, declarer drew three rounds of trumps and ran four rounds of hearts in order to discard his diamonds.

Declarer then looked at the hand more closely and discovered that he had practically no play to make his contract. He had already taken seven tricks and could surely cash both top clubs and make his two trumps separately, but these would give him only 11 tricks. He couldn't get back and forth conveniently enough to establish an extra club trick.

South tried his best at this stage by leading the king of clubs, ruffing a diamond, cashing the ace of clubs, and then leading the ten of clubs. South hoped that West would duck the ten of clubs, but West was not so foolish.

He covered with the queen, forcing dummy to ruff. This established South's jack of clubs, but there was no way for South to get back to his hand to cash this trick. Dummy was left in the lead with two losing diamonds, and the slam contract was therefore defeated.

South should count his winners at the very beginning of the hand. Since there are four hearts and no diamonds, South must make eight tricks in the black suits. Since there is no way to get two ruffing tricks in the dummy and thus make six trump tricks altogether, South must plan to make three club tricks. (If South tries to ruff twice in the dummy, he will get stuck in the dummy with no way to get out.)

Once South has seen clearly that he needs three club tricks, his proper course is clear. He should draw trumps with the queen and the king, lead a club to the king, get back with the ace of spades, cash the ace of clubs and then lead the jack of clubs. When West plays a low club, South should let this trick ride. The contract therefore depends on dropping a doubleton queen of clubs or on finding it in the West hand.

When the jack of clubs holds, South can cash the four hearts in order to get rid of his diamonds and can easily make 12 tricks. It isn't difficult to solve this problem once you have counted your tricks and thus discovered what the problem is.

Will Boost Milk Prices

Stewartsville, N. J., June 11 (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner says retail milk prices in New Jersey will be boosted two cents a quart starting July 1. In a speech here last night, Meyner said a two-cent reduction last April 1 in the retail price of milk was "a serious blow to all New Jersey dairymen." He said the cut would be restored July 1. Meyner spoke to the Stewartsville Grange No. 121, and told the dairymen that his administration and State Milk Director Floyd Hoffman were working for a solution to "the serious price situation" facing the producers.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Where there is abundance there is little disposition to listen to politicians. They thrive chiefly on scarcity. That's a fact — not a theory.

Karl Marx knew it. That was his weapon.

Mr. Hutton

Our captains of production have listened to political outbursts such as — "business must, therefore, be compelled by political action to change its ways, or it will continue to stand in the way of the plain people."

On the face of that statement was chalked up the Soviet lie.

Remember, neighbor, a Communist is not taught to tell the truth. He is told to lie. The Bolsheviks are a curse to human society. And, remember that it is, — and always will be, — the people, not political Commissars, not Russian police, but free people who build great nations; and among them, the creative minds that develop products which make for progress, better standards of living and jobs for all.

If ever the police, — agents of the Russian Government, — make us a "CAPTIVE NATION," we will be tossed into the dust heaps of fallen nations — never — no never — to rise as a free people again.

Some may say, Hutton is overapprehensive. Well, that's better than to be destroyed by apathy. "The price of liberty is vigilance."

Look at France. France would not listen.

50-Year Members Honored by Grange

Herbert Schultz and H. V. Story were presented their Golden Sheaf certificates as 50-year members at a recent meeting of Ulster Grange 969 in Ulster Park.

The awards were made by Henry D. Sherwood, past state grange master and past national grange master, who gave the main address.

Edward McBroom, worthy master of Ulster Grange, noted that friendships formed through the years in the grange were "as pure as the gold in the pins being presented."

The ceremony took place at a roast beef dinner prepared by Mrs. Fritz Kamman. A large anniversary cake was cut and served to all. Ulster Grange was formed in February, 1903.

Honored guests: Isaac Graham of Stone Ridge; Mrs. Isaac Graham, lady assistant steward of the state grange; Mrs. Vernon Barnhart, juvenile deputy of the state grange; Vernon Barnhart, deputy of the state grange; George Mollenhauer, master of Ulster County Pomona Grange; Mrs. George Mollenhauer, juvenile deputy of Ulster County Pomona Grange; Mr. and Mrs. Barrett and Mr. and Mrs. Tallman of Chapel Corners, Dutchess county.

Ulster County Grange masters present: Mr. and Mrs. John E. Simon, Asbury Grange 1408; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nace, Highland Grange 888; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ahlberg, Huguenot Grange 1028; Mr. and Mrs. Franz Kruetzfeldt, Hurley Grange 936; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carle, Lake Katrine Grange 1065, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Deitz, Rosendale Grange 1501.

As Pegler Sees It

under all the structure above the explosion in these new hutches.

When an experiment fails as this one plainly has, the thing to do is to condemn the idea and forbid any further construction of such kind. It should not have taken a practical test to show the error because engineers are supposed to have ways of predetermining results. However, granted that the experiment did deserve a practical test, the test has now been made and the result is failure. Build a whole city of this clap-trap and you will have a city of raving maniacs, driven nuts by noise which even the most polite and well-intending citizens cannot control.

The walls of these new apartments should have been at least three times as thick as they are and made of better construction to provide a reasonable protection against sounds from next door, upstairs and downstairs. And the concrete piers with the steel rods acting as sound conductors are a menace to civilization because if a new tenant builds some bookshelves or nails down a carpet the sound travels all over the building. This is not an original observation on my part. I just happen to be the first one to write about it.

Pack 38 Re-organizes At Special Meeting

Saugerties, June 10 — William Kiernan was registered as cubmaster and Warren Phillips as assistant cubmaster of Cub Pack 38 at a special pack meeting held Tuesday evening at the parish room of the sponsoring institution the Saugerties Reformed Church.

Others registered in the re-organization included Mrs. Jack O. Pakenan and Mrs. LeRoy Snyder as den mothers. Scout David Overbaugh of Troop 32 was designated as den chief.

Prior to the business meeting of the pack the cub Scouts presented skits depicting scenes of Mississippi Showboating which is the cub Scouting theme of the month. The entire pack formed a choral group and sang popular showboating songs to the accompaniment of Mrs. Harold E. Pangburn at the piano. The cubs also staged a puppet show in front of a background river scene by the boys.

The cub Scouts participating included Robert Paradise, Jack Pakenan, Bruce Van Voorhis, Bill Wootten and Richard Snyder.

The pack discussion between parents and leaders brought out the role to be played by the pack in the district-wide air show which is the theme for the month of June. Eugene Davis, neighborhood commissioner in charge of cub Scouting, and Cubmaster Kiernan outlined plans for the pack's participation in that event.

A film strip presentation on pack administration was made by William Ormandy, district training director, with commentary by Hubert Legg, assistant cubmaster of Pack 130. A large group of leaders and cub Scouts of Pack 130 were present to view the program.

Other scouters in attendance were the Rev. Harold E. Pangburn, institutional representative; LeRoy Snyder, pack chairman; Jack Kellerhouse, committeeman; Albert J. Cawein, neighborhood commissioner; Mrs. Ormandy and Mrs. Legg den mothers of Pack 130, and Edward Kiernan, cubmaster of Pack 32. Following the film showing refreshments were served by the den mothers and pack committeemen.

There was no sign that any of the 17 servicemen aboard survived the crash into a 6,300-foot island mountain. A broken airplane on tiny, rugged Yakushima, 50 miles off southern Japan, was positively identified as the wreckage of a missing PBM. The two-engine amphibian patrol bomber was on a flight from western Japan to the Philippines.

When today's hand was played, South counted only his losers. He saw that he could discard both of his diamonds on dummy's hearts, and he assumed that he would have no club losers in view of dummy's shortness.

Without doing any more counting, declarer drew three rounds of trumps and ran four rounds of hearts in order to discard his diamonds.

Declarer then looked at the hand more closely and discovered that he had practically no play to make his contract. He had already taken seven tricks and could surely cash both top clubs and make his two trumps separately, but these would give him only 11 tricks. He couldn't get back and forth conveniently enough to establish an extra club trick.

South tried his best at this stage by leading the king of clubs, ruffing a diamond, cashing the ace of clubs, and then leading the ten of clubs. South hoped that West would duck the ten of clubs, but West was not so foolish.

He covered with the queen, forcing dummy to ruff. This established South's jack of clubs, but there was no way for South to get back to his hand to cash this trick. Dummy was left in the lead with two losing diamonds, and the slam contract was therefore defeated.

South should count his winners at the very beginning of the hand. Since there are four hearts and no diamonds, South must make eight tricks in the black suits. Since there is no way to get two ruffing tricks in the dummy and thus make six trump tricks altogether, South must plan to make three club tricks. (If South tries to ruff twice in the dummy, he will get stuck in the dummy with no way to get out.)

Once South has seen clearly that he needs three club tricks, his proper course is clear. He should draw trumps with the queen and the king, lead a club to the king, get back with the ace of spades, cash the ace of clubs and then lead the jack of clubs. When West plays a low club, South should let this trick ride. The contract therefore depends on dropping a doubleton queen of clubs or on finding it in the West hand.

When the jack of clubs holds, South can cash the four hearts in order to get rid of his diamonds and can easily make 12 tricks. It isn't difficult to solve this problem once you have counted your tricks and thus discovered what the problem is.

Will Boost Milk Prices

Stewartsville, N. J., June 11 (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner says retail milk prices in New Jersey will be boosted two cents a quart starting July 1. In a speech here last night, Meyner said a two-cent reduction last April 1 in the retail price of milk was "a serious blow to all New Jersey dairymen." He said the cut would be restored July 1. Meyner spoke to the Stewartsville Grange No. 121, and told the dairymen that his administration and State Milk Director Floyd Hoffman were working for a solution to "the serious price situation" facing the producers.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Where there is abundance there is little disposition to listen to politicians. They thrive chiefly on scarcity. That's a fact — not a theory.

Karl Marx knew it. That was his weapon.

Mr. Hutton

Our captains of production have listened to political outbursts such as — "business must, therefore, be compelled by political action to change its ways, or it will continue to stand in the way of the plain people."

On the face of that statement was chalked up the Soviet lie.

Remember, neighbor, a Communist is not taught to tell the truth. He is told to lie. The Bolsheviks are a curse to human society. And, remember that it is, — and always will be, — the people, not political Commissars, not Russian police, but free people who build great nations; and among them, the creative minds that develop products which make for progress, better standards of living and jobs for all.

If ever the police, — agents of the Russian Government, — make us a "CAPTIVE NATION," we will be tossed into the dust heaps of fallen nations — never — no never — to rise as a free people again.

Some may say, Hutton is overapprehensive. Well, that's better than to be destroyed by apathy. "The price of liberty is vigilance."

Look at France. France would not listen.

50-Year Members Honored by Grange

Herbert Schultz and H. V. Story were presented their Golden Sheaf certificates as 50-year members at a recent meeting of Ulster Grange 969 in Ulster Park.

The awards were made by Henry D. Sherwood, past state grange master and past national grange master, who gave the main address.

Edward McBroom, worthy master of Ulster Grange, noted that friendships formed through the years in the grange were "as pure as the gold in the pins being presented."

The ceremony took place at a roast beef dinner prepared by Mrs. Fritz Kamman. A large anniversary cake was cut and served to all. Ulster Grange was formed in February, 1903.

Honored guests: Isaac Graham of Stone Ridge; Mrs. Isaac Graham, lady assistant steward of the state grange; Mrs. Vernon Barnhart, juvenile deputy of the state grange; Vernon Barnhart, deputy of the state grange; George Mollenhauer, master of Ulster County Pomona Grange; Mrs. George Mollenhauer, juvenile deputy of Ulster County Pomona Grange; Mr. and Mrs. Barrett and Mr. and Mrs. Tallman of Chapel Corners, Dutchess county.

Ulster County Grange masters present: Mr. and Mrs. John E. Simon, Asbury Grange 1408; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nace, Highland Grange 888; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ahlberg, Huguenot Grange 1028; Mr. and Mrs. Franz Kruetzfeldt, Hurley Grange 936; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carle, Lake Katrine Grange 1065, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Deitz, Rosendale Grange 1501.

Streetcar Fun

Los Angeles (AP)—Commuters on the streetcar route between here and suburban Bellflower have never had it so good. Their conductor, V. C. Prettyman, has roped off a special section of the car for card players. Now, the card fiends have a board, cards, score sheets—and an ample supply of kibitzers.

As Pegler Sees It

under all the structure above the explosion in these new hutches.

When an experiment fails as this one plainly has, the thing to do is to condemn the idea and forbid any further construction of such kind. It should not have taken a practical test to show the error because engineers are supposed to have ways of predetermining results. However, granted that the experiment did deserve a practical test, the test has now been made and the result is failure. Build a whole city of this clap-trap and you will have a city of raving maniacs, driven nuts by noise which even the most polite and well-intending citizens cannot control.

The walls of these new apartments should have been at least three times as thick as they are and made of better construction to provide a reasonable protection against sounds from next door, upstairs and downstairs. And the concrete piers with the steel rods acting as sound conductors are a menace to civilization because if a new tenant builds some bookshelves or nails down a carpet the sound travels all over the building. This is not an original observation on my part. I just happen to be the first one to write about it.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

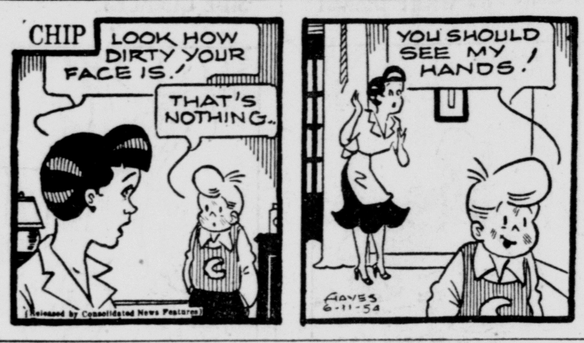

I am always a couple of columns behind the interesting material my readers are always giving me, so please have patience if I have not come to your item. H. L. Hornbeck, Sr. of 62 Prospect street sent me two actual photographs which he found in his attic of the trolley car accident which happened in Rondout Feb. 19, 1907, when it jumped clear of the track and plunged headlong into the watery icy slip of the old Newark Life and Cement Co. I did write about it some time ago as Mrs. Osterhoudt, who had been in the accident, gave me her version of it. In my time she was soloist at the Temple Emanuel on Abeel street.

There were six passengers on Trolley No. 1 (of the Kingston Consolidated RR) in charge of Conductor Walter Flannery and Motorman Richard Hauser, while on its way to Kingston Point, Tuesday at 5 p. m. when she jumped the track and slid into the icy water at a 45 degree angle, the rear wheels resting on the string piece of the dock. The first person to leave the car was Mr. Haines, the others who could, followed on hands and knees. There was Mrs. John Osterhoudt, wife of the chief engineer of the tug, Washburn, of the Cornell Steamboat Co., who resided on Lindsley avenue, Ponckhockie; Miss Susie McAndrew of 40 North street, Miss Sadie Schutt of Abruyn street, John J. Mowell of Gill street, A. Rossman Haines of Tannersville and an unidentfied man. Mr. Haines was covered with blood and when he was taken to the Mansion House, Dr. A. A. Stern was called to treat him and had to use several stitches for a gash above the left eye. Miss McAndrew escaped with a broken rib according to news item. Mr. Mowell was cut by flying glass and drenched with water which poured into the front part of the car. Miss Sadie Schutt escaped unhurt. Flannery, the conductor, was cut about the head. Motorman Hauser was thrown from the car a second or two before it dived into the slip and landed in the road uninjured.

On the morning of the accident this same car jumped the track at about the same place where the accident occurred in the evening. It is said that the flanges of the wheels of the car were defective and this had much to do with the second serious accident. I remember Mrs. Osterhoudt told me she was the most seriously hurt that someone handed her a handle of a shovel and she grabbed that and that way they pulled her out. Mrs. Marchio, who kept a fruit store on the Strand, happened to be passing at the time and took her into the wagon to her home. Dr. Chandler was called and found that Mrs. Osterhoudt had a break near the ankle of her left leg. Her left hand was badly cut and she had bruises about the head and body.

I have heard talk about this accident for years. It was during the old winter trolley days. The two pictures show both the front view on which can plainly be seen No. 1—Rhinebeck Ferry, and the rear end of the trolley in the water. The side view shows several of the windows broken and the slant of the trolley in the ice. One wonders how they were ever able to crawl up and out by themselves at that angle. As the trolley is open at both ends no doubt the cold icy water rushed right in which did not add to their comfort. No doubt there was more written up on that accident and how it came about in newspapers dated after Feb. 19, 1907.

Row Settled Privately

Los Angeles, June 11 (AP)—The James Roosevelts are settling privately the sizzling separation row in which she accused him of adultery with a dozen women. Their attorneys announced this yesterday, two days after the late President's eldest son won Democratic nomination for Congress in California's 26th District in a state primary election. An attorney for Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt said the agreement whereby her separate maintenance suit and her husband's divorce action will go off the Pasadena Superior Court calendar did not result from his political victory.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

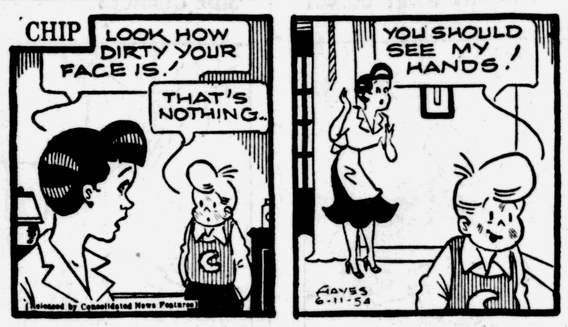

I am always a couple of columns behind the interesting material my readers are always giving me, so please have patience if I have not come to your item. H. L. Hornbeck, Sr. of 62 Prospect street sent me two actual photographs which he found in his attic of the trolley car accident which happened in Rondout Feb. 19, 1907, when it jumped clear of the track and plunged headlong into the watery icy slip of the old Newark Life and Cement Co. I did write about it some time ago as Mrs. Osterhoudt, who had been in the accident, gave me her version of it. In my time she was soloist at the Temple Emanuel on Abeel street.

There were six passengers on Trolley No. 1 (of the Kingston Consolidated RR) in charge of Conductor Walter Flannery and Motorman Richard Hauser, while on its way to Kingston Point, Tuesday at 5 p. m. when she jumped the track and slid into the icy water at a 45 degree angle, the rear wheels resting on the string piece of the dock. The first person to leave the car was Mr. Haines, the others who could, followed on hands and knees. There was Mrs. John Osterhoudt, wife of the chief engineer of the tug, Washburn, of the Cornell Steamboat Co., who resided on Lindsley avenue, Ponckhockie; Miss Susie McAndrew of 40 North street, Miss Sadie Schutt of Abruyn street, John J. Mowell of Gill street, A. Rossman Haines of Tannersville and an unidentfied man. Mr. Haines was covered with blood and when he was taken to the Mansion House, Dr. A. A. Stern was called to treat him and had to use several stitches for a gash above the left eye. Miss McAndrew escaped with a broken rib according to news item. Mr. Mowell was cut by flying glass and drenched with water which poured into the front part of the car. Miss Sadie Schutt escaped unhurt. Flannery, the conductor, was cut about the head. Motorman Hauser was thrown from the car a second or two before it dived into the slip and landed in the road uninjured.

On the morning of the accident this same car jumped the track at about the same place where the accident occurred in the evening. It is said that the flanges of the wheels of the car were defective and this had much to do with the second serious accident. I remember Mrs. Osterhoudt told me she was the most seriously hurt that someone handed her a handle of a shovel and she grabbed that and that way they pulled her out. Mrs. Marchio, who kept a fruit store on the Strand, happened to be passing at the time and took her into the wagon to her home. Dr. Chandler was called and found that Mrs. Osterhoudt had a break near the ankle of her left leg. Her left hand was badly cut and she had bruises about the head and body.

I have heard talk about this accident for years. It was during the old winter trolley days. The two pictures show both the front view on which can plainly be seen No. 1—Rhinebeck Ferry, and the rear end of the trolley in the water. The side view shows several of the windows broken and the slant of the trolley in the ice. One wonders how they were ever able to crawl up and out by themselves at that angle. As the trolley is open at both ends no doubt the cold icy water rushed right in which did not add to their comfort. No doubt there was more written up on that accident and how it came about in newspapers dated after Feb. 19, 1907.

Oklahoma leads all other states of the union in Indian population.

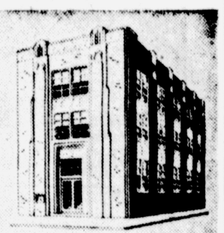

Row Settled Privately

Los Angeles, June 11 (AP)—The James Roosevelts are settling privately the sizzling separation row in which she accused him of adultery with a dozen women. Their attorneys announced this yesterday, two days after the late President's eldest son won Democratic nomination for Congress in California's 26th District in a state primary election. An attorney for Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt said the agreement whereby her separate maintenance suit and her husband's divorce action will go off the Pasadena Superior Court calendar did not result from his political victory.

The American flag is supposed to have been christened Old Glory by William Driver (1803-1886), a native of Salem, Mass. According to tradition, Driver became a Master Mariner in 1824 on his 21st birthday and his mother and other ladies made and presented him a beautiful American flag on the occasion. Maine and Missouri had been admitted into the Union in 1820 and 1821 respectively, and the United States flag then contained 26 stars. The number of stars was not increased until Arkansas was admitted into the Union in 1836.

Ponckhockie Services

The Ponckhockie Congregational Sunday school will hold its annual Children's Day service this Sunday at 11 a. m. A program of songs and recitations will be offered.

Starts Back Home

Los Angeles, June 10 (AP)—Wee Willie Spencer, 53-year-old former prizefighter and cabbie who came to Los Angeles Sunday with $8,000 in his pockets, started back home in New York by train yesterday with his bankroll intact. But police deposited the money for him in a bank and sent a draught for it to his sister, Mrs. Adela Garbarino of Woodside, N. Y. Spencer, who thought he was in New York when he arrived in Los Angeles, admitted to officers: "The streets seemed a bit too wide." Police spotted him on his arrival and decided that jail was the best place for him, in his dazed condition.

Auxiliary to Meet

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bloomington Fire Company will hold its monthly meeting in the firehouse at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday, June 15.

Shokan

Shokan, June 10—The WSCS of the Ashokan Methodist Church met June 2 at the home of Vivia Winnie. The ladies at this meeting set September 1 as the date for their annual fair and supper. The WSCS will hold a telephone bake sale June 26. Orders for baked goods may be telephoned before June 22 to Mrs. John W. Grob, Shokan 2326.

Connecticut residents in town recently included Mr. and Mrs. M. Schilke who were also callers at the Grover Winchell home in South Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hearn and children are making their home in their bright red trailer at the Harold Wilkins trailer park in the east end. Hearn teaches at the Bearsville school and his wife, the former Charlotte Davis, has second grade classes at Onteora School. The family formerly lived at Rosendale.

The Rev. Ben Scholten of Kingston will preach next Sunday morning in the Shokan Church which at present time is without a regular pastor. Dominie Scholten is husband of Ruth Palmer who as a girl resided in the Reformed parsonage in the old village of Shokan.

Albert Bell, who died in Kingston Saturday and was buried in Bushkill Cemetery Tuesday afternoon following funeral service at Woodstock, was one of the oldest residents of the reservoir country. He was brought up in the West Shokan area, one of 13 children, and was married to Annie Rutherford of Shokan who died several years ago.

The auxiliary of the Olive Fire Department will hold a rummage sale Saturday, June 12, at the fire house in Ashokan.

Cornelius Palen, a native of the Vly sector of Marbletown, was a caller here Saturday while en route from his home in Darien, Conn., to the Vly. Cornelius is a cousin of Earl Christiana of Woodstock.

The Freeman photo of Jimmy Massuccio and his 2-foot-plus rainbow trout will doubtless result in a noticeable increase in the number of fishermen at the reservoir grounds, come next weekend. Many will seek to emulate Jimmy's feat by snagging the mate to that 6¼-pounder which probably is lurking somewhere in the great Ashokan deeps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler of the Atwood-Vly road, accompanied by Harry's mother of New York, were callers in town Tuesday. The Fowlers who have an antique shop at their North Marbletown home, recently opened another shop in Stone Ridge.

Tillson

Miss Kolb Honored

Tillson, June 10—Miss Charlotte Kolb of Kingston, Tillson school principal, was given a surprise dinner by members of the Tillson School Association last week at Kessler's. Miss Kolb has accepted a position with another school next year. She was presented with a piece of Amelia Earhart luggage.

Following the dinner, a short business meeting was held. It was decided that the association would provide for a picnic June 24, the last day of school, on the school grounds at lunch time for the students of the Tillson school.

In addition to Miss Kolb, others at the dinner included the Mmes. Henry DuBois and Raymond Craft, school teachers, Nathaniel Phillips, Alfred Lesch, Kenneth Clark, Joseph Engert, William Wakeley, R. Wenzel, George Taylor, John Schultz, Howard Sutherland, Frank Rowe, Edward Modjeska, Hollis Henry, Charles Goss, Walter Born, Peter Hoffman, Jr., Arthur Deyo, Charles DeWitt, John Ruska, Harold Lonsdale, Ray Van Keuren, Albert Hoyt George Segelken, Arthur Hill and Joel Woolsey.

Ponckhockie Services

The Ponckhockie Congregational Sunday school will hold its annual Children's Day service this Sunday at 11 a. m. A program of songs and recitations will be offered.

Starts Back Home

Los Angeles, June 10 (AP)—Wee Willie Spencer, 53-year-old former prizefighter and cabbie who came to Los Angeles Sunday with $8,000 in his pockets, started back home in New York by train yesterday with his bankroll intact. But police deposited the money for him in a bank and sent a draught for it to his sister, Mrs. Adela Garbarino of Woodside, N. Y. Spencer, who thought he was in New York when he arrived in Los Angeles, admitted to officers: "The streets seemed a bit too wide." Police spotted him on his arrival and decided that jail was the best place for him, in his dazed condition.

Auxiliary to Meet

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bloomington Fire Company will hold its monthly meeting in the firehouse at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday, June 15.

Shokan

Shokan, June 10—The WSCS of the Ashokan Methodist Church met June 2 at the home of Vivia Winnie. The ladies at this meeting set September 1 as the date for their annual fair and supper. The WSCS will hold a telephone bake sale June 26. Orders for baked goods may be telephoned before June 22 to Mrs. John W. Grob, Shokan 2326.

Connecticut residents in town recently included Mr. and Mrs. M. Schilke who were also callers at the Grover Winchell home in South Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hearn and children are making their home in their bright red trailer at the Harold Wilkins trailer park in the east end. Hearn teaches at the Bearsville school and his wife, the former Charlotte Davis, has second grade classes at Onteora School. The family formerly lived at Rosendale.

The Rev. Ben Scholten of Kingston will preach next Sunday morning in the Shokan Church which at present time is without a regular pastor. Dominie Scholten is husband of Ruth Palmer who as a girl resided in the Reformed parsonage in the old village of Shokan.

Albert Bell, who died in Kingston Saturday and was buried in Bushkill Cemetery Tuesday afternoon following funeral service at Woodstock, was one of the oldest residents of the reservoir country. He was brought up in the West Shokan area, one of 13 children, and was married to Annie Rutherford of Shokan who died several years ago.

The auxiliary of the Olive Fire Department will hold a rummage sale Saturday, June 12, at the fire house in Ashokan.

Cornelius Palen, a native of the Vly sector of Marbletown, was a caller here Saturday while en route from his home in Darien, Conn., to the Vly. Cornelius is a cousin of Earl Christiana of Woodstock.

The Freeman photo of Jimmy Massuccio and his 2-foot-plus rainbow trout will doubtless result in a noticeable increase in the number of fishermen at the reservoir grounds, come next weekend. Many will seek to emulate Jimmy's feat by snagging the mate to that 6¼-pounder which probably is lurking somewhere in the great Ashokan deeps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler of the Atwood-Vly road, accompanied by Harry's mother of New York, were callers in town Tuesday. The Fowlers who have an antique shop at their North Marbletown home, recently opened another shop in Stone Ridge.

In addition to Miss Kolb, others at the dinner included the Mmes. Henry DuBois and Raymond Craft, school teachers, Nathaniel Phillips, Alfred Lesch, Kenneth Clark, Joseph Engert, William Wakeley, R. Wenzel, George Taylor, John Schultz, Howard Sutherland, Frank Rowe, Edward Modjeska, Hollis Henry, Charles Goss, Walter Born, Peter Hoffman, Jr., Arthur Deyo, Charles DeWitt, John Ruska, Harold Lonsdale, Ray Van Keuren, Albert Hoyt George Segelken, Arthur Hill and Joel Woolsey.

Golf Squad Plays At Johnson City

Kingston High School athletes will be seeking New York State Intersectional titles on two fronts this weekend.

The Maroon golfers, who captured the Section 9 crown last week, will be in Johnson City today and Saturday for the Intersectional golf competition.

Representing Kingston High will be the regular foursome of Harold Van Aken, winner of the area JCC qualifying round Wednesday at Woodstock, Ronnie Marks, Scott Comstock and John Turck.

Van Aken and Marks are conceded a good chance for the individual title. Coach Don Karnes is in charge of the trip.

Track at West Point

Meanwhile, Kingston's crack 880 relay squad seeks further glory in the track Intersectionals at West Point.

Unbeaten and seriously pressed only by Middletown this season, Coach G. Warren Kias' terrific relay foursome has to be conceded a chance against any outfit in the state. That would mean, of course, Charlie Johnson, Webster Henderson, Charlie Coutant and Bucky Miller.

By virtue of seconds in the Section 9 meet, Webster Henderson is eligible for the 100 and 220 yard events.

Bill Engle qualified for the discus competition with a second at Bear Mountain.

Kingston will not be represented in the tennis competition. Coach Theron Culver was unable to field a team for last week's Section 9 play because of illness and injuries to members of the team.

Panther-Dobler Game Canceled

Threatening weather around game time forced cancellation of yesterday's scheduled City League contest between the Panthers and Doblers.

The regular schedule resumes Tuesday evening when Doblers meet Olive Merchants. Yesterday's postponement will be played off at the end of the first half.

Giardello-Jones 'Fixed' Bout Set Tonight at Garden

New York, June 11 (AP)—A week ago the news of a "fight fix" attempt startled the nation. Tonight "the" fight is to be held at Madison Square Garden with Joey Giardello boxing Bobby Jones.

Jones turned down a reported $15,000 bribe, allegedly offered by heavyweight Clarence Henry, to "fix" the Giardello fight and the district attorney's office launched a full scale investigation. For a week Jones has trained with a detective as a bodyguard, day and night.

Despite the arrests and publicity, Giardello still remains a 2 to 1 favorite over the 28-year-old Oakland, Calif. boxer, just as he did a week ago.

The 10-round middleweight match, scheduled for 10 p. m. (EDT), will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) with two judges and a referee giving a decision on a round basis.

T. Corkery Is '3 for 3', Wins by 8-2

Young Terry Corkery of the Adirondack Trailway Braves had quite a day for himself in the National Little League yesterday at Kingman Park.

The swift right-hander held the Island Dock Tigers to just one hit —a single by Joe Clausi—fanned 10 batters and went "3 for 3" at the plate. This all added up to an 8-2 victory over Island Dock.

Radel stroked a double and two singles to also qualify for a "3 for 3" performance.

Trailways were never headed after scoring three times in the first off Lonnie McAndrew, who permitted nine hits and fanned six.

With one out, Billy Huber singled and rode home on Radel's double. Radel scored on Corkery's first single and the latter came home with the third run on Kline's long fly.

Huber stroked two singles for the Trailways and Jake Senor was credited with the other safety.

Golf Squad Plays At Johnson City

Kingston High School athletes will be seeking New York State Intersectional titles on two fronts this weekend.

The Maroon golfers, who captured the Section 9 crown last week, will be in Johnson City today and Saturday for the Intersectional golf competition.

Representing Kingston High will be the regular foursome of Harold Van Aken, winner of the area JCC qualifying round Wednesday at Woodstock, Ronnie Marks, Scott Comstock and John Turck.

Van Aken and Marks are conceded a good chance for the individual title. Coach Don Karnes is in charge of the trip.

Track at West Point

Meanwhile, Kingston's crack 880 relay squad seeks further glory in the track Intersectionals at West Point.

Unbeaten and seriously pressed only by Middletown this season, Coach G. Warren Kias' terrific relay foursome has to be conceded a chance against any outfit in the state. That would mean, of course, Charlie Johnson, Webster Henderson, Charlie Coutant and Bucky Miller.

By virtue of seconds in the Section 9 meet, Webster Henderson is eligible for the 100 and 220 yard events.

Bill Engle qualified for the discus competition with a second at Bear Mountain.

Kingston will not be represented in the tennis competition. Coach Theron Culver was unable to field a team for last week's Section 9 play because of illness and injuries to members of the team.

Panther-Dobler Game Canceled

Threatening weather around game time forced cancellation of yesterday's scheduled City League contest between the Panthers and Doblers.

The regular schedule resumes Tuesday evening when Doblers meet Olive Merchants. Yesterday's postponement will be played off at the end of the first half.

CYO Track Stars In Saturday Meet

Five Ulster county parishes and several individuals have filed entries for the annual CYO track and field championships Saturday at 2 p. m. at Dietz Stadium, Leo Schupp said today.

St. Joseph's of Kingston will defend the team title and seek another leg on the Father Herdegen Memorial trophy.

Giardello-Jones 'Fixed' Bout Set Tonight at Garden

New York, June 11 (AP)—A week ago the news of a "fight fix" attempt startled the nation. Tonight "the" fight is to be held at Madison Square Garden with Joey Giardello boxing Bobby Jones.

T. Corkery Is '3 for 3', Wins by 8-2

Young Terry Corkery of the Adirondack Trailway Braves had quite a day for himself in the National Little League yesterday at Kingman Park.

The swift right-hander held the Island Dock Tigers to just one hit—a single by Joe Clausi—fanned 10 batters and went "3 for 3" at the plate. This all added up to an 8-2 victory over Island Dock.

Radel stroked a double and two singles to also qualify for a "3 for 3" performance.

Trailways were never headed after scoring three times in the first off Lonnie McAndrew, who permitted nine hits and fanned six.

With one out, Billy Huber singled and rode home on Radel's double. Radel scored on Corkery's first single and the latter came home with the third run on Kline's long fly.

Huber stroked two singles for the Trailways and Jake Senor was credited with the other safety.

White Sox Risk Stadium Jinx In Crucial Series With Yanks

The white hot Chicago White Sox came into Yankee Stadium for a four game series tonight, leading the American League by a game and a half. They've won 16 out of their 19, seven of them in a row.

But a lot of visiting winning streaks have become mere memories in the vast reaches of the Bronx Stadium which taunts the visitors with a slogan, "The Home of Champions."

The last time Paul Richards' hustlers lost two in a row to the same team was the last Yankee series in Chicago when the White Sox led after seven innings in each game only to get beat 4-3 and 3-2.

The White Sox had a day of rest yesterday as rain washed out their scheduled game at Philadelphia. The Yanks took batting practice against Detroit, beating the Tigers 9-5 on home runs by Yogi Berra, Bobby Brown and Mickey Mantle.

Cleveland fell a game and a half behind Chicago by losing to Washington 8-4. Baltimore took a pair from Boston 5-1 and 9-0.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers continued to share first place in the National League. The Giants edged Milwaukee 1-0 on Bill Taylor's 10th inning pinch hit homer. The Dodgers beat St. Louis 7-4. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 6-0 and Fred Baczewski pitched Cincinnati to a 6-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

Gomez Shines

Ruben Gomez, who says he will be much happier when really hot weather finally arrives, pitched his third shutout as Giant pitchers stretched Milwaukee's string of scoreless innings to 25.

The Giants never threatened until Taylor's home run. They had only four hits off Gene Conley and hadn't moved a man past second. A brilliant throw by Willie Mays caught Henry Aaron trying to score for the Braves after a fly ball in the seventh.

The Dodgers broke a two-game slump with a 13-hit attack on Vic Raschi and Stu Miller. The loss was Raschi's second straight after winning his first five in the National League.

Steve Ridzik and Jim Konstanty combined for the Philadelphia shutout over the Cubs. Ridzik left with the bases loaded in the fifth and Konstanty finished up for his second victory.

The Pirates got to Baczewski for 11 hits but they all were singles. The Cincinnati attack included Gus Bell's third homer in two days and Jim Greengrass' second.

Washington jumped on Bob Lemon of Cleveland for five runs in the third inning, three of them coming after George Strickland threw wild on a potential double play ball. Dean Stone, a rookie, won his fourth straight for the Senators.

Boston's hopes of climbing out of second division received a double setback from Joe Coleman and Duane Pillette of the Orioles. Coleman spaced seven hits in winning his seventh game in the opener. Pillette allowed only five in the nightcap shutout.

Sox Shutout Dodgers by 1 to 0 Score

The Moose Club Red Sox gave Charlie Boice a one-run lead in the top of the third inning Wednesday night and he made it stick for a slim 1 to 0 verdict over the Dodgers in the American League Little League game.

In fact, Charlie himself drove in the single run with a walk after Don Ellsworth, Joe DeCicco and Mike Carpino had stroked singles. George Kotrady, the Dodger hurler, then walked his pitching opponent on four straight balls and that was the ball game in a nut shell.

Outside of the third inning when the only run of the game came in, both Boice and Kotrady hooked up in a sizzling pitcher's duel. The former gave up three scattered hits while the Dodger flinger permitted four, two by Don Ellsworth. Garry Barnes, Ken Sickler and John Dunn picked up the only safeties off Boice.

Charlie Boice backed up his stellar hurling with a total of 10 strikeouts. George Kotrady whiffed eight.

Giants Win Fifth Game Over Tribe

The Esopus Little League Giants only need one more victory to clinch the first half standings following their lop-sided 11 to 4 conquest of the Indians Wednesday night.

The Giants manufactured 11 runs on as many hits to win behind the combined offerings of Ron Halsey and Mario Astorga. The latter came on in relief in the third inning and received credit for the win.

Darrell Myers and Ron Halsey were the batting stars of the game with three for four, including a pair of doubles apiece. Ed Nembhardt had two for four.

Besides Darrel Myers and Ron Halsey, other doubles were stroked by Ed Nembhardt (2), Mario Astorga, and Bob Robinson. Ed Clark, Ron Halsey and Bernie Brown collected triples.

Pitching fine ball in relief, Mario Astorga struck out nine. Ron Halsey registered four whiffs while John Carter, the Indian hurler, fanned 10.

Giel Signs To Pitch For Giants

Milwaukee, June 10 (AP)—How does a college kid react to an assured income of $60,000 for the next three years?

If he's Paul Giel, the Minnesota football star whose signing to pitch professional baseball for the New York Giants at those terms was announced here yesterday, he's more impressed with a gift automobile.

"Boy, you ought to see it," he told newsmen at a press conference attended by such high brass of the Giant's organization as President Horace Stoneham. "They gave it to me up at Minneapolis the other night. Was I surprised. It's a cream-colored hard-top convertible, a 1954 model."

Vetoed Grid Deals

Don't conclude from this that Giel, a two-time All-America halfback at Minnesota, is more than usually naive. He had his pick of six or seven offers from major league baseball teams and turned down a couple of what he called "highly attractive" bids to play football in the Canadian League.

"I decided a long time ago to play baseball instead of football," the 21-year-old single wing tailback explained. "But when those Canadians came around I just had to listen. They made me some real attractive offers."

Actually, Giel admitted, "several" other baseball offers were better than the one he agreed to with the Giants.

"But there were some other considerations—and I always wanted to play with the Giants, anyway," Giel added with a grin.

Giel figures to be in the Army by October, 1955. He said he will get his second lieutenant's commission in the ROTC in December, while completing credits for a physical education degree at Minnesota.

Praised by Hubbell

Leo Durocher, Giant's manager, said he hadn't seen the right-handed Giel throw prior to a short workout at County Stadium here last night but that Carl Hubbell, farm club director, was "high on the boy."

"Hub says he's a low ball pitcher and that's good enough for me," Durocher said. "The best Giant pitchers over the years—and Hub was one of 'em—were low ball men, made the batters hit into the ground. That's what you need in the Polo Grounds with those short foul lines."

Atlantic City, N. J., (AP)—University of North Dakota scientists told a biologists' meeting here that a single tulip bulb exposed to cobalt radiation will produce up to four blooming plants at a time instead of the normal one. Cobalt 60, a radioactive element, was used in the experiments.

White Sox Risk Stadium Jinx In Crucial Series With Yanks

The white hot Chicago White Sox came into Yankee Stadium for a four game series tonight, leading the American League by a game and a half. They've won 16 out of their 19, seven of them in a row.

But a lot of visiting winning streaks have become mere memories in the vast reaches of the Bronx Stadium which taunts the visitors with a slogan, "The Home of Champions."

The last time Paul Richards' hustlers lost two in a row to the same team was the last Yankee series in Chicago when the White Sox led after seven innings in each game only to get beat 4-3 and 3-2.

The White Sox had a day of rest yesterday as rain washed out their scheduled game at Philadelphia. The Yanks took batting practice against Detroit, beating the Tigers 9-5 on home runs by Yogi Berra, Bobby Brown and Mickey Mantle.

Cleveland fell a game and a half behind Chicago by losing to Washington 8-4. Baltimore took a pair from Boston 5-1 and 9-0.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers continued to share first place in the National League. The Giants edged Milwaukee 1-0 on Bill Taylor's 10th inning pinch hit homer. The Dodgers beat St. Louis 7-4. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 6-0 and Fred Baczewski pitched Cincinnati to a 6-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

Gomez Shines

Ruben Gomez, who says he will be much happier when really hot weather finally arrives, pitched his third shutout as Giant pitchers stretched Milwaukee's string of scoreless innings to 25.

The Giants never threatened until Taylor's home run. They had only four hits off Gene Conley and hadn't moved a man past second. A brilliant throw by Willie Mays caught Henry Aaron trying to score for the Braves after a fly ball in the seventh.

The Dodgers broke a two-game slump with a 13-hit attack on Vic Raschi and Stu Miller. The loss was Raschi's second straight after winning his first five in the National League.

Steve Ridzik and Jim Konstanty combined for the Philadelphia shutout over the Cubs. Ridzik left with the bases loaded in the fifth and Konstanty finished up for his second victory.

The Pirates got to Baczewski for 11 hits but they all were singles. The Cincinnati attack included Gus Bell's third homer in two days and Jim Greengrass' second.

Washington jumped on Bob Lemon of Cleveland for five runs in the third inning, three of them coming after George Strickland threw wild on a potential double play ball. Dean Stone, a rookie, won his fourth straight for the Senators.

Boston's hopes of climbing out of second division received a double setback from Joe Coleman and Duane Pillette of the Orioles. Coleman spaced seven hits in winning his seventh game in the opener. Pillette allowed only five in the nightcap shutout.

Sox Shutout Dodgers by 1 to 0 Score

The Moose Club Red Sox gave Charlie Boice a one-run lead in the top of the third inning Wednesday night and he made it stick for a slim 1 to 0 verdict over the Dodgers in the American League Little League game.

In fact, Charlie himself drove in the single run with a walk after Don Ellsworth, Joe DeCicco and Mike Carpino had stroked singles. George Kotrady, the Dodger hurler, then walked his pitching opponent on four straight balls and that was the ball game in a nut shell.

Outside of the third inning when the only run of the game came in, both Boice and Kotrady hooked up in a sizzling pitcher's duel. The former gave up three scattered hits while the Dodger flinger permitted four, two by Don Ellsworth. Garry Barnes, Ken Sickler and John Dunn picked up the only safeties off Boice.

Charlie Boice backed up his stellar hurling with a total of 10 strikeouts. George Kotrady whiffed eight.

Giants Win Fifth Game Over Tribe

The Esopus Little League Giants only need one more victory to clinch the first half standings following their lop-sided 11 to 4 conquest of the Indians Wednesday night.

The Giants manufactured 11 runs on as many hits to win behind the combined offerings of Ron Halsey and Mario Astorga. The latter came on in relief in the third inning and received credit for the win.

Darrell Myers and Ron Halsey were the batting stars of the game with three for four, including a pair of doubles apiece. Ed Nembhardt had two for four.

Besides Darrel Myers and Ron Halsey, other doubles were stroked by Ed Nembhardt (2), Mario Astorga, and Bob Robinson. Ed Clark, Ron Halsey and Bernie Brown collected triples.

Pitching fine ball in relief, Mario Astorga struck out nine. Ron Halsey registered four whiffs while John Carter, the Indian hurler, fanned 10.

Giel Signs To Pitch For Giants

Milwaukee, June 10 (AP)—How does a college kid react to an assured income of $60,000 for the next three years?

If he's Paul Giel, the Minnesota football star whose signing to pitch professional baseball for the New York Giants at those terms was announced here yesterday, he's more impressed with a gift automobile.

"Boy, you ought to see it," he told newsmen at a press conference attended by such high brass of the Giant's organization as President Horace Stoneham. "They gave it to me up at Minneapolis the other night. Was I surprised. It's a cream-colored hard-top convertible, a 1954 model."

Vetoed Grid Deals

Don't conclude from this that Giel, a two-time All-America halfback at Minnesota, is more than usually naive. He had his pick of six or seven offers from major league baseball teams and turned down a couple of what he called "highly attractive" bids to play football in the Canadian League.

"I decided a long time ago to play baseball instead of football," the 21-year-old single wing tailback explained. "But when those Canadians came around I just had to listen. They made me some real attractive offers."

Actually, Giel admitted, "several" other baseball offers were better than the one he agreed to with the Giants.

"But there were some other considerations—and I always wanted to play with the Giants, anyway," Giel added with a grin.

Giel figures to be in the Army by October, 1955. He said he will get his second lieutenant's commission in the ROTC in December, while completing credits for a physical education degree at Minnesota.

Praised by Hubbell

Leo Durocher, Giant's manager, said he hadn't seen the right-handed Giel throw prior to a short workout at County Stadium here last night but that Carl Hubbell, farm club director, was "high on the boy."

"Hub says he's a low ball pitcher and that's good enough for me," Durocher said. "The best Giant pitchers over the years—and Hub was one of 'em—were low ball men, made the batters hit into the ground. That's what you need in the Polo Grounds with those short foul lines."

Saugerties Store Is Renovated

Renovations have been completed to London's Department Store, 114-116 Partition street, Saugerties. The former Reed & Reed store, established 58 years ago, was taken over in February by the London family of Kingston, operators of London's Youth Center and Junior Bazaar on North Front street. Complete renovations were made to the main floor of the Saugerties store, including the installation of new cases and fixtures. Upper and lower floors were redecorated. Enlarged windows were installed, and the exterior was painted white to blend with the Colonial atmosphere of the neighboring buildings. A new gold awning with blue letters was added, matching the new neon sign. Arthur London is manager of the Saugerties unit, which has retained the staff that had been employed by Reed & Reed. (Freeman photos)

Plea Is Refused

New York, June 11 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has turned down gambler Frank Costello's plea that he be released in bail pending outcome of an appeal from his conviction for income tax evasion. "In a terse decision yesterday the court ruled, "Bail denied." Costello, 61, has been held in the Federal House of Detention since being sentenced May 17 to five years in prison and a $30,000 fine for evading payment of $39,015 in taxes. His counsel appealed the sentencing.

Saugerties Store Is Renovated

Renovations have been completed to London's Department Store, 114-116 Partition street, Saugerties. The former Reed & Reed store, established 58 years ago, was taken over in February by the London family of Kingston, operators of London's Youth Center and Junior Bazaar on North Front street. Complete renovations were made to the main floor of the Saugerties store, including the installation of new cases and fixtures. Upper and lower floors were redecorated. Enlarged windows were installed, and the exterior was painted white to blend with the Colonial atmosphere of the neighboring buildings. A new gold awning with blue letters was added, matching the new neon sign. Arthur London is manager of the Saugerties unit, which has retained the staff that had been employed by Reed & Reed. (Freeman photos)

Plea Is Refused

New York, June 11 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has turned down gambler Frank Costello's plea that he be released in bail pending outcome of an appeal from his conviction for income tax evasion. "In a terse decision yesterday the court ruled, "Bail denied." Costello, 61, has been held in the Federal House of Detention since being sentenced May 17 to five years in prison and a $30,000 fine for evading payment of $39,015 in taxes. His counsel appealed the sentencing.

Grammer Dies On Gallows for Murder of Wife

Baltimore, June 11 (AP)—George Edward Grammer, once a New York businessman with a high-figure expense account, dropped to his death from Maryland's gallows at 12:06 a. m. (EDT) today for the murder that was almost the "perfect crime."

The state accused Grammer of beating to death his 33-year-old wife on a sultry August night in 1952 so he could be free to marry a pretty United Nations secretary.

Grammer admitted he killed his wife. But he claimed he hadn't planned the crime.

The body of the mother of three litle girls was found in an automobile, smashed by a wild, careening drive down a Baltimore hill.

Pebble Is Found

Police found a pebble lodged beneath the accelerator to force it into a downward position. Their alert discovery led to a trial of damning evidence and the 37-year-old New Yorker's ultimate conviction.

Grammer lived in the Bronx and earned $660 per month as office manager of the Climax Molybdenum Co., before he was jailed for the slaying of his wife.

It was testified at his trial that he had an "almost unlimited" expense account. State prosecutors put into evidence love letters Grammer had written to Mathilda Mizibrocky, of Hamilton, Ontario, a vivacious brunette employed by United Nations. Grammer met her at a New York city bowling alley.

Shows No Emotion

The burly, six-footer went to his death without a trace of emotion. He had a glass of milk and a bun for breakfast yesterday and passed up the traditional last meal.

About 25 witnesses saw him die. Another 200 or so were outside the prison gates just a few blocks from the downtown section of Baltimore.

They dispersed quietly after they were told Grammer was dead.

Former Restaurateur Files in Bankruptcy

New York June 10 (Special)—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in New York Federal Court by Arthur Van Ohlen of Rosendale, a cook, who formerly operated a restaurant in Kingston.

He listed his liabilities at $8,364, of which $7,461 were unsecured. His assets totaled $350, including clothing and furniture worth $300 which was claimed exempt.

Von Ohlen, formerly a Bloomington resident, works as a cook in Deanie's Restaurant in Woodstock, where he has been employed since last July 11.

He operated Trailways Restaurant in Kingston from 1951 to June, 1953, and before that he had the food concession at Twaalfskill Golf Club in Kingston from 1949 to 1952.

Listed as principal creditors holding unsecured debts were John Van Gonsic, 495 Broadway, Kingston, owed $1,500, Jack Bordenstein, Creek Locks, $1,045; the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C., $1,000; and Bert Bishop, 174 Flatbush avenue, Kingston, $850. Von Ohlen also owed $903 to the state government for 1952 state income taxes and withholding taxes.

Grammer Dies On Gallows for Murder of Wife

Baltimore, June 11 (AP)—George Edward Grammer, once a New York businessman with a high-figure expense account, dropped to his death from Maryland's gallows at 12:06 a. m. (EDT) today for the murder that was almost the "perfect crime."

The state accused Grammer of beating to death his 33-year-old wife on a sultry August night in 1952 so he could be free to marry a pretty United Nations secretary.

Grammer admitted he killed his wife. But he claimed he hadn't planned the crime.

The body of the mother of three litle girls was found in an automobile, smashed by a wild, careening drive down a Baltimore hill.

Pebble Is Found

Police found a pebble lodged beneath the accelerator to force it into a downward position. Their alert discovery led to a trial of damning evidence and the 37-year-old New Yorker's ultimate conviction.

Grammer lived in the Bronx and earned $660 per month as office manager of the Climax Molybdenum Co., before he was jailed for the slaying of his wife.

It was testified at his trial that he had an "almost unlimited" expense account. State prosecutors put into evidence love letters Grammer had written to Mathilda Mizibrocky, of Hamilton, Ontario, a vivacious brunette employed by United Nations. Grammer met her at a New York city bowling alley.

Shows No Emotion

The burly, six-footer went to his death without a trace of emotion. He had a glass of milk and a bun for breakfast yesterday and passed up the traditional last meal.

About 25 witnesses saw him die. Another 200 or so were outside the prison gates just a few blocks from the downtown section of Baltimore.

They dispersed quietly after they were told Grammer was dead.

Agreement Signed

Woodstock, June 11 — Allen Dean Elwyn, owner of Deanie's restaurant, has announced that an agreement for the sale of the restaurant, was signed Thursday afternoon, pending application and issuance of a liquor license.

Light Needs Parts

The Linderman avenue traffic light which has been inoperative because of the need of new parts, will be in operation "momentarily," Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

The majority of modern inventions are not the work of single inventors, but are produced by highly trained men in laboratories.

Former Restaurateur Files in Bankruptcy

New York June 10 (Special)—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in New York Federal Court by Arthur Van Ohlen of Rosendale, a cook, who formerly operated a restaurant in Kingston.

He listed his liabilities at $8,364, of which $7,461 were unsecured. His assets totaled $350, including clothing and furniture worth $300 which was claimed exempt.

Von Ohlen, formerly a Bloomington resident, works as a cook in Deanie's Restaurant in Woodstock, where he has been employed since last July 11.

He operated Trailways Restaurant in Kingston from 1951 to June, 1953, and before that he had the food concession at Twaalfskill Golf Club in Kingston from 1949 to 1952.

Listed as principal creditors holding unsecured debts were John Van Gonsic, 495 Broadway, Kingston, owed $1,500, Jack Bordenstein, Creek Locks, $1,045; the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C., $1,000; and Bert Bishop, 174 Flatbush avenue, Kingston, $850. Von Ohlen also owed $903 to the state government for 1952 state income taxes and withholding taxes.
